NEW JERSEY'S BIG GUNS IN ACTION

The battleship USS New Jersey fires its 16-inch guns near the demilitarized zone. These were the first shells fired by the New Jersey in the Vietnamese war. The vessel is the only battleship on active duty in the U.S. Navy.

Battleship New Jersey, Planes Pound Enemy Targets in Viet

SAIGON (AP) — The battleship New Jersey and U.S. aircraft pounded enemy targets in North Vietnam while ground fighting in the South tapered off to scattered skirmishes, the U.S. Command reported Wednesday.

Spokesmen said the New Jersey's 16-inch guns destroyed six enemy bunkers about seven miles north of the demilitarized zone Tuesday, while her 5-inch batteries accounted for five more bunkers and a storage area.

The 5-inchers also scored three direct hits on an observation tower along the northern edge of the DMZ, spokesmen said.

The 56,080-ton New Jersey went on the firing line Monday in the South China Sea. Her bombardments brought a response Wednesday from the Hanoi government.

Radio Hanoi broadcast a statement by the North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry condemning the United States for "vicious and barbarous battleship bombardments while claiming it has de-escalated the war and is seeking peace in Vietnam."

HHH Bomb Halt Pledge Has No Adverse Effect on Talks

PARIS (AP) — U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman declared Wednesday that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's qualified bombing halt pledge had no "adverse effects" on the Vietnam peace talks in Paris.

Republican presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon had asserted that Humphrey's pledge, made in a campaign speech Monday, might compromise the Paris talks.

Harriman authorized the American delegation spokesman, Harold Kaplan, to state: "He (Harriman) sees no basis for (the vice president's speech) having had any adverse effects on the talks here."

A source in touch with the North Vietnamese delegation said Humphrey's speech came up during the coffee break at the 24th session of the talks Wednesday.

In the speech, Humphrey said he would, if elected president, halt U.S. bombing of North Vietnam if he received evidence that Hanoi was willing to restore the status of the demilitarized zone.

The North Vietnamese here spurned the campaign pledge in statements Tuesday. But they were known to be still searching for a complete text late Wednesday.

The talks stood apparently deadlocked after the Wednesday session at which North Vietnam charged that the United States intends to attack its territory and bring all Vietnam under Washington's domination.

"Utterly fantastic," Harriman said. Earlier he had accused North Vietnam of planning a massive invasion of the South.

North Vietnam's special ambassador Xuan Thuy told the U.S. envoy: "You have been impudent enough to say that the United States seeks no war with North Vietnam."

"It should be clearly pointed out that the fundamental designs of the United States are to sabotage the 1954 Geneva agreements on Vietnam, to turn South Vietnam into a U.S. neocolony and military base, and to pre-

Committee Asks Restudy Of Proposed Rte. 62 Project

An Ad Hoc Committee of concerned citizens has taken steps to organize in an effort to get the Pennsylvania Department of Highways to make a further study of the proposed Route 62 improvement through North Warren and south on Market st. to a proposed new bridge across the Allegheny River.

While the present phase of the project is understood to extend south to only Seventh ave., members of the committee have expressed much concern about the ultimate routing of a constantly increasing flow of traffic through the low-er Market st. area.

Looking at the proposal of widening Market st. extension to four lanes, the concerned citizens feel that the ultimate use of Market st. will be as a four lane highway with no parking on any portion. The safety problems around the Market st. elementary school, the Warren Public Library, the several churches and clubs that line the street as well as several professional offices and other buildings that generate a considerable amount of traffic has been one of the main considerations for the formation of the committee.

Gerald Coates, 408 Market st., has accepted the chairmanship of the committee and is working with several members to organize a public meeting in the very near future to further explore the alternatives to the present proposal. One suggestion offered in several forms was to construct a Route 62 bypass to eliminate all through traffic and greatly reduce the congestion on the present street and road route.

Fortas Bows Out; Johnson Terms Senate Action Tragic

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a strongly worded letter to President Johnson deploring attacks on the Supreme Court, Justice Abe Fortas bowed to Senate opposition Wednesday and requested withdrawal of his nomination to be chief justice.

Shortly thereafter, Johnson issued a statement saying that with "deep regret" he was acceding to Fortas's request and withdrawing the nomination.

"I believed when I made this nomination, and I believe now, that he is the best qualified man for this high position," the President said.

Johnson's nomination of his long-time friend and adviser to succeed Chief Justice Earl Warren appeared to have been doomed Tuesday when the Senate refused to cut off a filibuster by opponents.

A 45-43 vote to put the Senate's antifilibuster rule into effect was 14 short of the required two-thirds majority of senators voting. And taking into account

National Guard, Reservists Will Be Demobilized

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon announced Tuesday night that all 16,000 Air National Guardsmen and reservists mobilized after the Pueblo incident will be returned to civilian life by next June 30.

Four squadrons will be released by the end of this year and the rest during next April, May and June, the announcement said.

The Pentagon cautioned that the demobilization plans "could be changed, of course, if unforeseen circumstances arise." It did not say what such circumstances might be.

Some 37,000 air reservists, naval reservists and Army National Guardsmen and reservists were called to active duty in January and May following North Korea's seizure of the intelligence ship Pueblo and the enemy's Tet offensive in Vietnam.

The Navy already has acted to release some 600 air reservists in six squadrons by Nov. 1.

Army spokesmen said the Army has no plans at this time to free its 20,000 mobilized guardsmen and reservists.

President Johnson called up the reservists under authority voted him by Congress to mobilize units for up to 24 months without declaring war or a national emergency.

Sources said Wednesday the Air Guardsmen and reservists will be released starting in these last three months of 1968, with the last removed from active federal service by next June 30.

The phased release is designed to give the regular Air Force time to fill the slots out of its regular establishment.

Announcement of the move, under study for some six weeks, may be made Thursday.

Sources said that six Air National Guard squadrons will finish their normal overseas tours before being released.

These include four fighter squadrons in South Vietnam and two in South Korea.

Senate OKs Multi-Billion $ Missile Defense System

(c) N. Y. Times News Service WASHINGTON — The Senate, after an unusual secret session, overwhelmingly rejected Wednesday what was probably the final effort to delay a multi-billion-dollar missile defense system.

By a 45-25 vote, the Senate defeated an amendment by Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., that would have eliminated $387.4 million requested by the administration to start deployment of the Sentinel Anti-Ballistic Missile (ABM) System.

The funds were included in a $71.8 billion defense appropriations bill—the largest in United States history. The Senate put off until Thursday final action on the bill as Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., began offering a series of obviously doomed amendments to cut up to $8 billion from the military appropriations for this fiscal year.

The Cooper amendment received its crucial vote after the Kentucky senator had called ed the Senate into one of its rare closed-door sessions to discuss secret intelligence information on Chinese and Soviet missile developments.

With spectators and the press removed from the gallery and the large wooden doors to the chamber closed and guarded, the Senate, for two and one-half hours, debated the ABM issue in the presence only of staff assistants sworn to secrecy by the presiding officer.

About 35 to 40 senators were in the chamber for the unusual session—a large number for any Senate debate and particularly impressive in light of the fact that the debate coincided with the first game of the World Series.

No Laughing Matter!

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Hundreds of Buffalo motorists who suffered the aggravation of flat tires Tuesday and Wednesday may think a section of Elmwood Avenue should be renamed Deflation Lane.

Police said a truck traveling along Elmwood Avenue Tuesday with a load of metal shavings dumped the sharp bits of metal along several blocks of the street when its tailgate broke.

One motorist said he had five flats in less than 24 hours.

A city sanitation truck sent out to sweep up the razor sharp bits of metal got two flat tires and had to be replaced.

The problem was cleared up Wednesday but not before the local branch of the American Automobile Association was up to its neck in calls asking that the AAA come out to change tires.

However, the AAA had lots of moral support. More than 1,000 persons were attending the group's 66th annual convention a few blocks away from the scene of the problem.

Rusk Denounces Czech Invasion, Challenges Russ to Withdraw

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk denounced the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia Wednesday as repugnant and dangerous to world peace, and challenged the Russians to make good their promises of a military withdrawal.

In a major policy speech to the 125-nation General Assembly, interrupted at the outset by Vietnam peace shouters, Rusk declared the United States will end the bombing of North Vietnam "the minute we can be confident this will lead toward peace."

He warned the Soviet Union that the United States and its Western allies would not tolerate the threat or use of force against West Berlin or West Germany.

On the Middle East, he urged

Israel and the Arabs to take advantage of a "small and precious momentum toward peace" and cooperate with the mission of U.N. envoy Gunnar Jarring.

It was the first policy speech delivered by Rusk at the United Nations since his appointment in 1961. It represented also the policy of an administration which will hand over the reins of government to a new U.S. president in less than four months.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko listened impassively to the 37-minute speech. He and other Communist Bloc leaders did not join in the applause at the conclusion. Gromyko will deliver the Soviet policy speech Thursday.

Six men and three women, ranging in age from 16 to 38, took part in the brief heckling of Rusk. They shouted slogans and displayed banners in the public gallery reading "Stop the War in Vietnam" and "Big Firms Get Rich, GIs Die" before they were removed by U.N. guards. There were no injuries to the guards or demonstrators, a U.N. spokesman said.

On the invasion of Czechoslovakia, Rusk declared: "This act has sent a shock wave of indignation and apprehension around the world, and has shaken hopes for better East-West relations."

"A world which had begun to speak of a thaw in the cold war feels once again a chill of apprehension concerning Soviet purpose," he said.

Provisions in the U.N. Charter guaranteeing the security of small nations have been brushed aside by the Soviet Union, Rusk said.

Fortas

first nominee for chief justice to fall of Senate confirmation since 1795, when George Washington's nomination of John Rutledge was rejected 14 to 10.

Referring to the Senate's refusal to cut off a filibuster by opponents of Fortas's confirmation, Johnson said:

"The action of the Senate, a body I revere and to which I devoted a dozen years of my life, is historically and constitutionally tragic."

Supporters of the nomination said Fortas was the first Supreme Court nominee to be denied confirmation by a filibuster, although the Senate has refused to confirm about one-sixth of all Supreme Court nominees.

Although there were scattered demands in the Senate that Fortas resign from the bench, he said in his letter to Johnson that he will be on hand to participate in the court's work when it opens its new term on Monday.

Senators began immediate speculation whether Johnson would submit another nomination and try to win confirmation before Congress adjourns, probably next week.

Another alternative would be for the President to make a recess appointment after Congress adjourns, but Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., who led the fight for Fortas's confirmation, said this would be undesirable.

In 1960, during the closing months of the Eisenhower administration, Hart sponsored a resolution adopted by the Senate with Johnson's support opposing recess appointments to the Supreme Court.

There was speculation among some senators that Warren would withdraw his resignation. He apparently is resigned to opening the court's session Monday, and implied in late August that Fortas's opponents in the Senate had to make a decision between him and Fortas.

"Between accepting Abe Fortas and keeping me, they are going to take Abe Fortas," he said at Carroll College in Helena, Mont.

Fortas, in requesting withdrawal of his nomination, noted that the Senate had refused to end the filibuster against calling up his nomination and also that the Supreme Court will start a new term on Monday.

He said that continued efforts to secure confirmation, even if eventually successful, "would result in a continuation of the attacks upon the court which have characterized the filibuster—attacks which have been sometimes extreme and entirely unrelated to responsible criticism."

Fortas said he hoped withdrawal of his nomination would "help to put in motion a process by which there will be an end to destructive and extreme assaults upon the court."

Critics contended in the Senate debate that Fortas had joined in decisions expanding the rights of criminal suspects, overturning obscenity convictions, and permitting Communists to work in defense plants.

Aside from attacks on rulings of the court, opponents contended that Fortas had breached the separation of powers doctrine by participating in White House conferences while a member of the court.

There also was testimony at the Senate Judiciary Committee's hearings that he had helped draft Johnson's 1966 State of the Union message and legislation this year providing Secret Service protection for presidential candidates.

Also cited by opponents as evidence of what they termed lack of discretion and judgment was Fortas's acceptance of a $15,000 fee, raised from five business executives by a former law partner, for lecturing at a summer law seminar here.

Fortas's withdrawal letter dwelt on what he termed attacks on the court.

"I pray that we shall see, in all of our nation, renewed dedication to the principles of fairness and justice and moderation, without which our democracy cannot continue," he wrote Johnson.

"It is in this spirit that I respectfully ask that you honor my request for withdrawal of my nomination as chief justice of the United States," he said.

Photographer Reports 'Many' Shot Down in Mexico City

An Associated Press photographer reported seeing "many" bodies in the Plaza of the Three Cultures, just blocks away from the downtown area, of persons shot down in an exchange of automatic gunfire. Another Associated Press man saw at least two civilians killed and 10 wounded in front of the Foreign Ministry, apparently victims of a civilian sniper posted in an apartment building above.

All the victims had been holding their hands aloft while army troops held them at gunpoint. Troops in armored cars opened up with machine guns on student snipers, and gangs of youths roamed streets, shooting and throwing gasoline bombs.

An American cameraman said a motorcycle policeman was shot dead at his side. The photographer, Carl Sorenson of Columbia Broadcasting System, said troops smashed his camera and held him prisoner for more than an hour.

State Has Own GOP 'Truth Squad'

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania now has its own version of the Republican national "truth squad."

Director David O. Maxwell of the Pennsylvania Nixon-Agnew organization announced Wednesday the creation of the 13-man state squad "to track down distortions by Democrats speaking about the record of the Shafter administration."

He added that the group "will examine every Democratic statement about the Republican record in Pennsylvania and expose any distortions or misstatements."

Talks

pare for an attack against North Vietnam with a view to imposing its domination on the whole of Vietnam."

Harriman retorted: "Everybody knows this is utterly false. The U.S. has no designs on North Vietnam. The extremely limited objective of the U.S. has been stated many times, namely to permit the people of South Vietnam to decide their own future without any outside interference."

Before Thuy made his charge, Harriman said evidence uncovered by allied troops sweeping the once-neutral demilitarized zone indicated the North Vietnamese planned a massive invasion of the South. He cited the network of trails, and the bunkers and arms caches found there in the last eight weeks.

Both Thuy and U.S. spokesman Harold Kaplan said the 24 sessions had produced "no progress."

Thuy said Hubert H. Humphrey's qualified bombing halt pledge Monday contained nothing original, and he termed it "deceitful."

Humphrey had said he would, if elected president, halt U.S. bombing of North Vietnam if he received evidence that Hanoi was willing to restore the status of the demilitarized zone.

Thousands of persons were said to have been arrested. The student-army crossfire sent residents of the area and passers-by fleeing screaming for cover.

The battle was the latest and possibly the worst outbreak in more than two months of demonstrations and occasional violence in the Mexican capital. Student leaders have objected to what they say is government repression.

Wednesday night's disorders, which lasted more than three hours, broke out after student leaders, faced with a massive deployment of federal troops and armor, called off a scheduled protest march against the administration of President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz.

The battle area was in the downtown section of the capital, several miles from the Olympic village at the southern edge of the city, where final preparations were under way for the 1968 Olympic Games, which open this month.

Hundreds of residents fled from their buildings in the apartment district, scene of a bloody gunfight last week.

Humphrey Attacks Nixon; Raps All Extremists

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey, who came South to hit George Wallace where he lives, took out instead after Richard Nixon Wednesday by saying: "Before I get through with him he'll have a blowtorch on his political tail like he never had before."

Humphrey flew from Knoxville, Tenn., to Jacksonville where a lunch hour crowd estimated by police at 10,000 turned out to listen.

Missile

Under a 1954 Senate rule, any senator may request a closed-session session when he has information to discuss that he believes requires secrecy. It is a rule rarely invoked however. The last time the Senate met in closed session was in July, 1966, to discuss a proposal to establish a watchdog committee on intelligence operations.

Senator Cooper invoked the rule to present intelligence information obtained in briefings by the Defense Department and the Central Intelligence Agency.

He believed the information demonstrated that neither the Chinese missile threat nor the Soviet missile defense system presented as great a threat as postulated by the administration in ordering a go-ahead in the Sentinel system earlier this year.

Costing an estimated $4 to $5 billion, the Sentinel system, as initially described by the administration, is designed to provide a "thin" defense of the U.S. capable of countering a small-scale missile attack from Communist China.

Originally the administration contended that the Sentinel system was necessary to counter the Chinese missile threat in the mid-1970's, when it was estimated that Peking would have a "significant" number of intercontinental missiles.

Because of delays in the Chinese missile program, Senator Cooper, in a speech preceding the secret session, said it now appeared on the basis of the latest intelligence estimates that Communist China would have less than 10 intercontinental missiles by the mid-1970's.

The vice president said he was in an uphill fight against the Republican nominee who, he said, was running a cool and composed campaign.

Humphrey said his own effort to become president was short of money and late starting because of the Democratic Party convention.

Then Humphrey told the crowd he would heat up the blowtorch for Nixon.

At a downtown corner Humphrey warned against extremism of the right and left as he turned his attack to Wallace.

He warned against extremists "who chant and disrupt meetings."

3-Day Voter Registration Begins Today

JAMESTOWN — Chautauque County residents who are not registered to vote in next month's general election will have an opportunity today, tomorrow and Saturday, Oct. 4, 5 and 6, to register.

The naming of the "collector" street is one of the items on the agenda for next Monday's meeting of Youngsville Borough Council. The new street is in use although its Railroad st. exit hasn't been completed.

Traffic lights will be installed in the near future. The street is the only way to reach the Rouse Home. It is also the only way for some borough residents to leave their homes since former routes to East Main st. were eliminated by the by-pass.

Persons who did not register last year under permanent personal registration, those who moved, and new voters must be registered if they wish to vote in the November presidential election.

The hours of registration today are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. On Friday the polls will be open from 1 to 9 p.m., while on Saturday, voters may register from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Literacy tests for all persons who have not completed sixth grade and who wish to determine if they qualify to vote will be given in several schools throughout the county the next three days.

Wallace To Announce LeMay as Running Mate

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace will name retired Air Force Gen. Curtis E. LeMay as his running mate Thursday morning, sources close to Wallace said Wednesday night.

The blunt-talking, cigar-chewing "Old Ironpants" of World War II flew into Pittsburgh late in the afternoon, but he refused to talk to reporters.

Nixon Raps Administration On Sea Power

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, campaigning on a colonial college campus and then in a Navy city, accused the Democratic administration Wednesday of compromising future American naval strength and permitting the Soviet Union to mount "a major challenge against Western seapower."

Winding up his day of campaigning near the headquarters of the Atlantic Fleet here, the Republican presidential candidate said present defense leaders have failed to develop this nation's nuclear carrier and submarine strength.

In a speech prepared for a rally, Nixon said:

"Americans must come to grips with two critical facts: First, the Soviet Union is making a very impressive bid to become the world's No. 1 sea power. Second, the United States has not been doing what it should to keep them from over taking us."

Nixon began his day on an academic note, speaking on the campus of William and Mary College near the restored old town of Williamsburg, Va., where he called for "a new Spirit of '76" to restore personal freedom in America.

As he left the hall, about 100 young people, part of a crowd of 1,500, waved banners, most with slogans critical of him.

In his naval speech, Nixon attacked the Democratic administration specifically for "departmental dragging of feet" in building nuclear carriers and their escorts.

He also said the administration has permitted "a widely acknowledged 'submarine gap' vis-a-vis the Soviet Union."

The GOP candidate said the Soviet Union now has about 380 operational submarines compared to 150 for the United States as a result of a crash program in shipbuilding.

Youngsville Road Needs Name

YOUNGVILLE — The new Youngsville access road, paralleling the new Youngsville Route 6 by-pass, is looking for a name.

Suggestion boxes will be placed today in Pennsylvania Bank and Trust Co. and Warren National Bank, Youngsville offices, so Youngsville area residents may contribute ideas on a name for the road.

The naming of the "collector" street is one of the items on the agenda for next Monday's meeting of Youngsville Borough Council. The new street is in use although its Railroad st. exit hasn't been completed.

Traffic lights will be installed in the near future. The street is the only way to reach the Rouse Home. It is also the only way for some borough residents to leave their homes since former routes to East Main st. were eliminated by the by-pass.

Persons who did not register last year under permanent personal registration, those who moved, and new voters must be registered if they wish to vote in the November presidential election.

The hours of registration today are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. On Friday the polls will be open from 1 to 9 p.m., while on Saturday, voters may register from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Literacy tests for all persons who have not completed sixth grade and who wish to determine if they qualify to vote will be given in several schools throughout the county the next three days.

In Jamestown, the literacy tests will be given at the School Administration Building, 200 East Fourth st., from 10 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. today. On Friday, tests will be given from 3 to 5 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m. On Saturday, the hours are 10 a.m. to noon and 1 to 3 p.m.

Negotiators for Striking Miners Report Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP)—Negotiators for 80,000 coal miners reportedly have reached a tentative agreement on a wage hike of more than $1 a day and are discussing fringe benefits of a proposed new contract.

Meanwhile, many miners who walked out in wildcat strikes in some states were returning to work while the contract negotiations continued here.

Sources close to the talks between W. A. (Tony) Boyle, president of the United Mine Workers union, and George Judy, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, said some progress was being made in the negotiations.

Most of the soft coal miners now earn a basic rate of $27.25 per day. Workers in top jobs make $30 a day.

Several thousand miners in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Illinois and Kentucky walked off their jobs Monday and Tuesday, apparently in the mistaken belief their contract had expired Monday. The union said the contract expiration is not until mid-night Oct. 8, and expressed continued hope for a new contract by then.

Boyle Tuesday sent members of the union's 125-man Wage Policy Committee back to their home areas with instructions to get strikers back on the job.

The union has coal contracts with firms in 22 states, most of them with member companies of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association. Other firms usually follow the pattern set in the negotiations between the association and the union.

Rotarians Hear Warren Barbershoppers Story

Rotarian Al Lauffenberger presented the story of the Warren Barbershoppers to Warren Rotarians Monday at their meeting at the Blue Manor.

He introduced the "Investigators," champion quartette composed of Paul Mahan tenor, Dave Reynolds lead, Steve Cruickshank, baritone and Bill Crozier, bass.

The "Investigators" were organized in March 1966, Lauffenberger explains, and in October of that year won the Seneca and District championships. They went on to the regional contest in April, 1967, and won the regional championship. This qualified them to represent Seneca and at the international contest at Los Angeles in July, 1967. There the "Investigators" placed fourteenth in the top 20 quartettes entered.

WAHS Organizations On Regular Schedule

By ROBERT SCHORMAN

Most of the clubs and organizations at Warren Area High School are organized and meeting on a regular basis now. Many of them got together a little prematurely in order to participate in the Fall Fun-In and are just beginning to settle into normal activities.

The FTA, FBLA, FNA, the Russian Club, Spanish Club, French Club and Thespians Club have all had one or more formal meetings. The Pep Clubs are also together and turning out signs and posters encouraging a football victory this weekend.

A new club, the Astronomers Club, will also be formed this year if student interest is sufficient.

Municipal Group Elects President

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Pennsylvania Municipal Authorities elected Herbert L. Walborn of Greensburg as new president and adopted three resolutions Wednesday in the final session of its annual convention.

Walborn is manager of the Westmoreland Municipal Authority. Also elected were V. A. Appleyard, Chester, manager and chief engineer of the Chester Water Authority, first vice president, and Julius E. Graf, Pittsburgh, chairman of the Allegheny County Sanitary authority, second vice president.

Resolutions adopted by the estimated 600 delegates urged passage of legislation to require homeowners to tie into public water supplies wherever available, to raise the subsidy to sewage treatment plants from 2 to 3 per cent per year and to improve the effectiveness of parking authorities.

Final balloting this week in homerooms will determine which of the five finalists will be homecoming queen. The five candidates are: Becky Potter, Chris Lundahl, Lynn Wendelboe, Mary Ann Fritts, and Debbie Walker. The winner will be crowned this Saturday night at the annual homecoming dance, "Portrait of Autumn."

The dance is being sponsored by the color guard and majorettes. Wunderbar fans can prepare to break open their piggy banks. The Varsity Club, after deliberating a switch to "brand X," decided to stick with the Wunderbars. They will probably be available for purchase this weekend.

Once again the senior class is selling football victory tags. This week the tags urge the team to "Chain the Bulldogs."

The junior class, already looking ahead to next May, has begun to lay the groundwork for the Prom.

Boy Slightly Hurt In Traffic Mishap

Four-year-old Dennis Cassatt, of 118 Connecticut ave., sustained minor abrasions when struck by a pickup truck about 3:39 p.m. Wednesday at the intersection of Conewago and Connecticut avenues.

The boy, borough police said, was taken to Warren General Hospital by his father, Norman Cassatt. He was treated and released.

Police said the truck was operated by Jeffrey L. Bartsch, 17, of 206 McPherson st. The mishap occurred when the boy darted into the path of the truck which was heading east on Connecticut ave.

Immediate Measures Needed To Save Polluted Lake Erie

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Pollution is destroying Lake Erie, but the lake can be saved if corrective measures are taken immediately, according to a government report released here today.

The report, produced after five years at a cost of $3 million, was made public by Joe G. Moore Jr., commissioner of the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration, at a news conference.

It said that "every moment lost in allowing the destruction to continue will require a longer, more difficult and more expensive corrective action."

Moore said that although Lake Erie is the most sensitive to pollution of all the Great Lakes, its physical characteristics make it most amenable to corrective measures.

The report said that Lake Erie has aged 15,000 years in the last half century because of what man has dumped into it and that bacteria from sewage are a direct health hazard, particularly near metropolitan centers such as Cleveland.

It said the aging process could be arrested by reducing the municipal—industrial discharge of phosphorus to 9,000 pounds per day. Phosphorus, the report continued, is a fertilizer that causes algae to grow in excess and when that happens, as it has in Lake Erie, the balance of life in a lake is broken.

Phosphorus is the one nutrient amenable to treatment and control, the report continued, adding that of the 137,000 pounds now discharged daily into the lake, 72 per cent comes from sewage.

Sewage treatment plants which do not remove substantial amounts of nutrients accomplish little to save the lake, the report said.

Other points the report made included:

State's August Employment Total Highest

Pennsylvania's employment total of 4,754,800 was the highest ever recorded for any August and exceeded the previous high established one year ago by 34,200, Secretary of Labor and Industry John K. Tabor announced today.

Compared with five years ago, employment was up a noteworthy 458,000.

Secretary Tabor noted that nonfarm wage and salary working employment registered a modest gain of 5,000 jobs from July to August. This gain was more than offset by seasonal dips in farm employment and in the self-employed, unpaid family and domestic workers group.

Average weekly earnings of $117.91 for production workers in all manufacturing industries were down $1.29, the result of a loss of three-tenths of an hour in the length of the average workweek coupled with a decline of one cent in average hourly earnings. This was primarily due to a decline in the higher paid durable goods employment combined with an increase in the lower paid nondurable goods employment. Compared with a year ago, average weekly earnings were up $4.99 with an appreciable over-the-year gain in average hourly earnings.

Treasurer Requests Office Hours Change

ERIE—Erie County Treasurer Neil McLaughlin asked county commissioners for permission to open his office one night a week for the benefit of working people.

Commissioners saw no objection to the request except for a possible security risk of robbery. Such a risk is lessened during regular 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. hours with the sheriff's office just down the hallway.

Commissioner William O. Hill Jr. shrugged off the security risk, saying, "You're bonded aren't you?"

"Yes we're bonded but we want to be alive," McLaughlin replied.

Commissioners deferred action on the request.

Loan Approved For Fire Hall

Youngsville Borough has been granted a loan of $50,000 for the construction of its new fire hall.

Joseph W. Barr Jr., secretary of Community Affairs for Pennsylvania, announced the approval and forwarding of municipal bond proceedings.

The proposed loan to Youngsville is to be repaid within five years at an interest rate of four per cent.

Unidentified Performing Nudes Face Prosecution

MADISON, Wis., (AP) — Dist. Atty. James Boll said Wednesday he would charge two curvy coeds who danced nude in a campus version of Peter Pan with obscenity—if he can find out who they are.

He said he would charge student producer Stuart Gordon as well.

The prosecutor asked University of Wisconsin police to obtain names of the girls who defied Boll's orders and took part in the outlawed production Tuesday night.

Despite capacity crowds of more than 500 at each of two performances, identification posed a problem. Part of the problem may have been the fact that as many as six girls took part in the play in its initial performances a week ago. Part may have been that the girls' faces weren't what attracted most of the spectators.

But the audiences, whatever their motivation, gave Gordon, a senior drama student from Chicago and director of the controversial production, and his cast standing ovations Tuesday night after the shows went on. A few hours earlier Boll said anyone performing nude would be subject to prosecution.

Wisconsin's anti-obscenity law carries maximum penalties, upon convictions, of a $5,000 fine and five years imprisonment.

"Community standards," Boll said, "do not permit girls to dance nude before an audience."

He also observed that the play as put on by Gordon "has changed radically from when I first read it as a boy."

In its present version, the villains are policemen, Tinker Bell dies and Peter Pan, in what apparently suggests a fate worse than death, is forced to grow up and become an adult.

According to the producer, the dance depicts the innocent creation of Never Never land, with the girls, costumed only in flickering psychedelic lights, on stage for about 10 minutes while a smoke machine adds to the misty effect.

"I really believe in the play," said a shapely blonde who was one of the original performers, but who withdrew because, she said, "I don't want to risk getting expelled."

"We're not like a cast any more," said another performer who has stayed with the company. "We're more like survivors."

Boll's reaction was anticipated. At each of the outlaw performances, moved from the original theater to another university meeting room, collections were taken up for bail money.

Borough police investigated 26 motor vehicle accidents which resulted in injuries to 10 during September. They investigated six hit-and-run accidents. Total property damage for the month was estimated to be $9,710.

Hometown Pride

If one thinks back five or so years and then takes a second look today, he will see that a number of Warren County's communities are doing something about their appearance. This is not only true in Warren, but a number of smaller towns.

A picture story in the paper this week showed Youngsville building a new fire hall, new church buildings, more parking facilities and a new business.

Our reporter in Tidioute, a community with practically no industry, is getting a new look on the main street where merchants and businesses are remodeling and expanding.

On a recent visit to Sheffield some of the town's civic leaders pointed out what has happened there, what will be taking place and what they would like to see transpire in the future. New and modern buildings can be seen in downtown Sheffield today and a new chain store building is in the making to make the business section even more attractive.

Warren is razing buildings for additional parking, merchants are putting on new store fronts and plans are materializing for more housing.

We are fortunate our towns have leaders with the faith and pride in their hometown that is being shown here today.

RUSSELL BAKER

The Shapes of the Devil

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — Once upon a time during the presidential campaign of 1968 a group of blind men were taken into the presence of the devil and were allowed to touch both him and his surroundings that they might perceive what the devil was like.

And they were brought before an assembly of people who were not blind and who had therefore been denied the chance to perceive the devil. And the people who were not blind said, "Tell us, oh privileged persons, what the devil is like."

"In the devil's lair," said a college student, "there are many file cabinets, and in the file cabinets there are many letters with richly embossed letterheads of the sort used by establishment tyrants and the Central Intelligence Agency. There is no doubt that the devil is a college president.

And the assembly of people who were not blind whistled in amazement. "Is this so?" they asked an older man from Alabama who yearned to be the leader of them all.

"To get up there where the devil lives," he said, "you got to go up on this here elevator, and when you get into the lair you can feel the walls all cold and hard like they're made of ivory. The devil lives in an ivory tower."

And the assembly of people who were not blind shook their heads and whispered among themselves, "The devil is a college president who lives in an ivory tower."

"That's not all," cried a policeman who had been among the privileged. "The devil has a beard and long hair that falls down around his collar."

And the people shouted

mightily and exclaimed, "Now we will know the devil when he comes among us: he will look like a hippie college president from an ivory tower."

"Stay!" cried a sociologist, who had also touched the devil. "I will tell you more. The devil carries a nightstick and wears a badge."

And the people murmured uneasily at this, and one among them said, "You are asking us to believe that the devil is a hairy college president in policeman's clothes who lives in an ivory tower."

"My friends," said a man with a muted 5 o'clock shadow, who also yearned to lead them all, "perhaps I can explain all this. But first let me tell you what a pleasure it is to be here in this enormous enthusiastic crowd of people who are not blind. This is typical of the great crowds I have been attracting all over the ——" And the people cried, "Just tell us about the devil, Dick."

"In the devil's lair," he said, "there was another man. In his hand I felt a thick ponderous volume, heavily bound like a book of law. This man was undoubtedly a lawyer, and what is a lawyer for, my friends, if not to coddle criminals? The devil is a criminal coddler."

And the people were sore dismayed, for it is small help in identifying the devil to know that he is a criminal coddler until he has been physically caught in the act of coddling a criminal, by which time the damage may well be done.

"Yes, verily," they cried, "When we come upon a hirsute college president in a policeman's suit coddling a criminal in an ivory tower, surely we will know that he is the devil, but how may we know him when he walks among us?"

"He will speak in a Texas accent," said a brilliant professor from the Ivy League. "Did the devil then speak?" the people asked.

"The devil did not speak," said the brilliant professor, "but I felt his ears and felt that the lobes thereof were long and pendulous. There is no doubt that he will speak in a Texas accent."

And the people became restive with the blind men. "Other blind men pressed forward to describe the devil, but the people moved away for fear of hearing more, for they had begun to lose faith in the blind men. And they said, 'If we continue to listen to the blind men, eventually they will tell us that the devil also looks like people; to wit, us.'"

For they had perceived that in an election year the devil has as many forms as there are blind men.

WILLIAM BUCKLEY

Ball Loves Humphrey

George Ball's announcement he left the United Nations to help avert a national disaster, i.e., the election of Richard Nixon, was dismissed by Mr. Nixon's campaign manager, Mr. John Mitchell, as contemptible, and we are all off to a good start. Mr. Ball has a certain literary flair and no doubt will contribute a little acid to the general political situation, and that much is okay. But it is at the same time reasonable to ask what are Mr. Ball's credentials for advising this country at this hour. There are those who, surveying Mr. Ball's career, will wonder why Mr. Ball has associated himself with the authors of the crises from Mr. Nixon's resolution of which he now seeks to save us.

Take Vietnam. It is whispered about that Mr. Ball was not ever really sympathetic to our Vietnam policies, and that therefore his association with Humphrey has dovish implications. In fact, doves on the prowl for good news will be disappointed if they read Mr. Ball's book published early this year called THE DISCIPLINE OF POWER. In it he scorns those who believe that there are McCarthyite solutions to the war, such as coalition governments, an end to the bombing, simple cease-fires, or turning the problem over to the United Nations. The book is not a defense of our original decision to go into Vietnam, but it is most certainly a defense of Mr. Johnson's conduct of a war we may have made the mistake of getting into. "Regrettably," Mr. Ball concludes his analysis, "I have nothing better to offer, so that obnoxious as I find the prospect, I feel we may have no serious option but to continue the course we are presently pursuing until conditions for a settlement are more propitious. This means that we cannot bring the war to an acceptable end until we further wear down the enemy in South Vietnam, where the issue is joined and will be determined."

Now Mr. Ball rushes forward to save the world from the consequences of President Nixon's predictable mishandling of the Vietnam war, which Mr. Ball unceasingly combines with the charge that Nixon hasn't indicated just how he would solve the Vietnam war. So that what it comes down to is that Mr. Ball 1) defends the existing conduct of the war, which makes him a member of the most exclusive club in America; 2) doesn't know how Nixon would solve the crisis; but 3) knows that he would solve it unsatisfactorily. Why? Because he is a Republican -- and that is about the extent of the whole thing. Mr. Ball's background is impeccably liberal. Someone asked him a few years ago who were his best friends, and his answer is surely a classic. Let me see, er, Adlai Stevenson, Jean Monet, John Kenneth Galbraith, and Walter Lippmann. Now these gentlemen make excellent friends, but dreadful advisers, though I pause to note that friend Lippmann has come out for Nixon. Mr. Ball most eloquently tore the Soviet representative to ribbons at the UN last August after the crushing of Czechoslovakia, but it appears never to have crossed his mind that our own politics of detente, which he has enthusiastically forwarded during his years in the State Department, had the effect of encouraging the Soviet Union in lawlessness. His longtime addiction to detente made him sound almost personally affronted last August when the Soviet Union moved into Czechoslovakia. Perhaps he will be disappointed yet again if, in the future, Richard Nixon is inaugurated and administers the office of the chief executive without the advent of disaster, disasters being, alas, what mostly happen during Democratic Administrations, or so it sometimes seems, does it not?

It would appear, then, to be mostly a matter of politics. Mr. Humphrey needs aggressive champions. And then too, there is that slender possibility of an upset victory. Mr. Ball publicly informed Mr. Humphrey that he should not consider Mr. Ball among prospective officials in a Humphrey Administration, thus giving the whole operation an air of idealistic detachment. Exactly two months ago, Mr. Ball was quoted in the New York Times Magazine as saying, "Nobody who has done what I have done, who has spent his whole adult life in the world of international affairs, could possibly say he wouldn't want to be Secretary of State. I'd love it."

MASON DENISON

Candidate Sloan's Views

(ED NOTE: Syndicated columnist Mason Denison has invited the four candidates for Pennsylvania's two fiscal offices -- State Auditor General and State Treasurer -- to express in their own words, without benefit of editorial blue pencil, why they feel Pennsylvania's voters should endorse their particular candidacy at the polls November 5.)

By GRACE M. SLOAN
Democratic Candidate for State Treasurer

HARRISBURG — It takes a watchful eye and an experienced hand to prudently manage the billions of hard-earned tax dollars which are on deposit in the State Treasury.

This I know from firsthand experience as State Treasurer from 1961 to 1965.

The State Treasurer heads a multi-billion dollar operation. During the year ended June 30, 1968, the State Treasurer also was custodian of $13,366,443.50 Commonwealth securities as of August 30th.

In managing such large amounts of taxpayers' money, the State Treasurer must exercise the same sound judgment and care that a responsible person practices in handling one's personal affairs.

If re-elected State Treasurer, I vow that I will continue to maintain a tight rein on the Commonwealth's financial affairs. While my political allegiance lies with the Democratic Party, political considerations have never influenced my actions in discharging my duties either as State Treasurer or as Auditor General.

However, my political label merits every thoughtful consideration in this election. With a Republican Governor in office, it's a healthy situation for the taxpayers to elect a vigilant Democrat as State Treasurer. As a watchdog of your tax money, I have cracked down on any extravagant or irresponsible spending of public funds. Would a hand-picked fiscal officer owning his loyalty to the Republican Administration now in power guard your tax dollars with the same vigor and determination?

With Republican Governor Shafer increasing taxes and collecting and spending your tax dollars, it makes good sense to elect Democrats to the two fiscal offices to check these transactions. Aside from the time-honored principle of checks and balances, consider my prior accomplishments as State Treasurer. During my term I introduced a number of meaningful reforms.

One of these was a change in the State's investment policies. Action taken by me literally saved the taxpayers millions of dollars. In one fiscal year alone income from investments was over 81 million dollars -- an increase of 78 percent, while receipts from all funds were up only 37 percent.

Consider my experience in issuing general obligation bonds of the Commonwealth. The State Treasurer plays a key role in selling, managing and redeeming these bonds. Over the next four years, the State plans to borrow hundreds of millions of dollars through the sale of bonds. It is a job which I have done and can do well.

Consider also my experience as Auditor General. A recent amendment to our State Constitution requires that the pre-audit responsibilities now assigned to the Auditor General be separated. When the amendment is implemented, it is altogether possible the pre-audit task will be assigned to the State Treasurer. I would bring to that office invaluable first-hand knowledge of the pre-audit function.

In addition to my duties as Auditor General, I serve as an active member of 15 major Commonwealth boards, commissions and authorities. By election of the bipartisan membership of four of the most important of these agencies, I serve as Treasurer. They are the General State Authority, State Public School Building Authority, State Highway and Bridge Authority and Pennsylvania Higher Education Facilities Authority.

I believe my past experience as State Treasurer and presently as Auditor General will enable me to be a State Treasurer worthy of your trust.

It will be my purpose to conduct the office with the same prudence, fidelity and vigilance that I exercised in my prior administration of that office and in my administration of the Auditor General's Department.

"Does he look brainwashed to you...?"

DREW PEARSON

Turning Back the Clock

(Editor's Note--Readers of Drew Pearson's column have followed the careers of his grandchildren almost since they were born. Today, Pearson writes a letter to his eldest grandson, Drew Pearson Arnold, on the occasion of his wedding.)

Dear Drew,

I was feeling rather blue yesterday, but your wedding cheered me up. It was hard for me to realize that the little barefoot redhead who used to wade in the streams at the farm catching tadpoles and putting them in quart jars is now grown up and going off on his own with a wife. I began to realize it when I saw you standing up straight and tall beside your bride and your brother George, who didn't forget the ring after all, though everyone was betting he would.

I fully realized it when you finally drove away in your convertible covered with those lip-sticked embellishments, "The Pill -- Courtesy of Cardinal O'Boyle," and all those tin cans and old shoes tied on behind.

Your friends were wonderful. They made me feel young again. They also made me feel that the world will be a lot better and safer place to live in when they and theirs take over. The only question is whether the world can wait long enough for them to do so. Will the world survive all the mistakes the older generation is making today?

These mistakes were what made me blue yesterday morning. I had been away, and came back to learn how the Senate and House conferees had hamstrung the Health, Education, and Welfare department so the federal government cannot enforce school integration by withholding funds.

This, of course, is exactly what George Wallace of Alabama is proposing and what Nixon, without any fanfare, also favors. Undoubtedly Republican members of the House-Senate conference were following his lead.

But their vote -- if it stands -- will set back integration 50 years. It will present more problems for you to unravel when your generation takes over the leadership of the USA.

TURNING BACK THE CLOCK
It has now been 12 years since the Supreme Court's school desegregation decree and still the schools in many parts of the nation remain segregated. One girl who was at your wedding was telling me about an exception, namely her school, Western Senior High in Georgetown, which has been so long integrated that the students don't pay any attention to race at all. The student body is about two-thirds Negro, and over half the teachers are Negro. They are good teachers, she says, and don't let the students get away with any monkey business.

This is because Western High integrated 12 years ago, immediately after the Supreme Court's school desegregation decree and still the schools in many parts of the nation remain segregated. A Hecklers' Convention

WASHINGTON — Heckling of speakers has become such a big thing on college campuses these days that it has been decided to hold an Intercollegiate Hecklers' Conference in the near future.

The man behind it is Hiram Bullhorn, who had come to Washington to arrange for speakers who could be heckled at the conference.

"We were hoping to get President Johnson," Hiram said, "but we may have to settle for Hubert Humphrey and Gen. Hershey."

"What do you intend to do at the conference?"
"We want to exchange ideas on heckling, discuss new methods of jeering and hooting and see if we can find ways of shedding more heat and less light on the basic issues of the day."

"It should be very constructive," I said.

"I've had a very good response. Almost every university in the country wants to send Court decree, and the students have grown up together. Incidentally, Western High has one of the higher scholastic ratings of the District of Columbia.

I remember your telling me of studying the Hayes-Tilden Presidential election in your history class; and how Tilden, the Democrat, was probably elected, but was counted out by three Southern states when Hayes and the Republicans made a deal with Southern Democrats to stop the integration movement in the South. That was in 1876. And that was what turned back the clock in the South and piled up the problems we face today. Today the accumulated problems of 90 years have burst on us all at one time. Naturally we can't solve them in a hurry. And we will have even more trouble solving them if we turn back the clock as Wallace, Nixon and now the House and Senate conferees want us to do.

HANDICAPPING PEACE
The other news that discouraged me was the vote of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to postpone consideration of the treaty to stop the spread of nuclear weapons. This had been signed after months of negotiation between the United States and Russia and more months of persuading other nations to sign it too. None of this was easy. Now it looks as if all this hard-won work toward peace will gradually be frittered away.

It is true that everyone is down on the Russians now. But you have to give the peace clique inside the Kremlin some encouragement, an argument to use against the military clique; not cut the ground out from under them by retreating from a treaty that is a milestone in the march toward peace.

Again Republicans on the Foreign Relations Committee took their cue from Nixon, who had urged no action on the non-proliferation pact. This may be a portent of things to come. Nixon's main policy may be to turn back.

However, I don't believe this nation can turn back the clock without a Negro guerrilla war in our big cities and without disastrous student strikes in our big universities. Despite George Wallace, you can't put several million Negroes in jail or behind barbed wire stockades. And you can't jail the thousands of youngsters who demonstrate for peace. You have to learn to work with them and educate them and meet such demands as are reasonable. If we don't do this, if once again we let problems accumulate, we're going to leave a terribly messed-up world for you to handle. In fact, there might not be any world left for you to handle.

Well, I didn't mean to preach a sermon on the occasion of your wedding. I just wanted to tell you that your young guests at the wedding set me thinking.

I also have been wondering just how long you drove your car before you cut loose all those tin cans and old shoes trailing behind.

Love from

Your Grandfather.

What '25-5' Means

Do you know what the bafflegab "25-5" refers to and have you a clear idea of how important these figures could be to our economy in general and your pocketbook in particular?

You're the rare individual if you do know, for there is an astounding inclination even among students of finance in our country today either to ignore, to underestimate or to misinterpret this tale. So here goes:

The figures "25-5" refer to the scheduled decline in the federal budget from a deficit of $25.4 billion in fiscal 1968 to a deficit of only about $5 billion or so in the current fiscal year 1969.

This is familiar enough, but behind this year-to-year decline in the deficit actually will be a massive swing in the federal budget from deficit in these final six months of calendar 1968 to a big surplus in the first six months of calendar 1969.

To suggest how sharp this turn might be, one informed estimate is that the red ink in these six months is totaling around $12 billion while the black ink in 1969's first six months will reach $6 billion... a turn of $18 billion in only a few months!

Now what could this dramatic switch mean?

(1) To our country, it flashes the signal of an unmistakable slowdown in early 1969, no matter how buoyant business seems to be today. The "cooling" should become increasingly apparent in the figures and "feel" in the winter of '69.

(2) To you, as a borrower, it telegraphs lower interest rates by next winter. The demand for loans will be shrinking spectacularly as the months roll on. Instead of being an enormous, persistent borrower of funds, the Treasury will be paying down debt as the budget swings into surplus in the spring of 1969. Corporations also will be tapping the capital markets less aggressively as their spending for new plants and equipment levels off.

(3) To you, as a saver of funds in a financial institution, it suggests lower rates on your savings too (unless your rate of return is fixed).

(4) If you're looking for a job and do not have skills which are greatly in demand, you'll find it tougher to get a job. A higher unemployment rate is implicit in a more restrained economy.

(5) If you're a retailer, you'll find it harder to make sales--even if we, your customers, dig into our savings.

(6) If you're either a homebuyer, homebuilder, or home seller, you'll have an easier time of it. Mortgage money will become more available as borrowing pressures from other sources let up. You'll pay steep rates for the money but you'll be able to get it, and this is the crucial factor in the construction picture. The virtually certain emergence of a housing spurt is, as a matter of fact, a major weapon against an economic recession.

Actually, the coincidence of deflationary forces in the winter of 1969 will be extraordinary, and I am not counting on an end of the Vietnam war.

In addition to the massive budget swing from deficit to surplus, our Social Security taxes will go up, beginning in January, and will drain an estimated $3 billion annually from our paychecks and cash registers.

On top of this, many taxpayers (quite possibly, including you) will find they owe more taxes than they thought, because of the retroactive feature of the surtax. This will curtail disposable incomes and therefore, tend to curtail consumer spending.

To summarize, federal spending will be flattening out; business spending will be leveling off; consumer spending will be slowing down. It's quite a switch, indeed, and it all stems from the magnitude of the switch "25-5."

Students Eligible for New Federally-Financed Program

By FRANCES RHODES
Youngsville High School sophomores have been advised of a new federally-financed program in which they are to have an opportunity to take part. According to Terrence Hook, the school guidance counselor, it is a "broad program of innovation in the educational field, for pupil guidance in a rural or semi-rural area." It is a Title III project of the federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Funds have been appropriated for its administration in Warren, Crawford and Erie counties, from a central office in Erie, where Richard Burton is the director and John Jarvis the assistant director. Several exploratory meetings were held there this summer. The program will serve college-bound and non-college-bound students, and will seek to orient both groups to what they may expect to encounter after graduation from high school, and hopefully help them make sound career decisions. The prospective college students will be taken to colleges for visits of one, two, or three days' duration. Parents will be encouraged to accompany them. Students who plan to go directly into industry, business or the commercial world will also spend one or more days "on the job." They will be shown three phases of employment—the entry job, the skilled job and the supervisory. The program will involve parent conferences, group meetings, and visits to the school by appropriate speakers—industrial and business leaders and college personnel. Plans are not yet complete and an area coordinator must be appointed; but a preliminary meeting has been set for October 9, and it is hoped to launch the program at least early in November.

American Field Service

Semi-Finalists Announced Earns Letter of Commendation From National Scholarship Panel

The names of American Field Service semi-finalists for the opportunity to spend the summer of 1969 in the home of a family in a foreign country were announced yesterday by Youngsville High School. They are: Marshall Myers III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall W. Myers Jr., 346 East Main st., Youngsville; and Merrilou Gustafson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gustafson, 137 Davis st., Youngsville. Kathy Arnold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Arnold Jr., of Pittsfield, was selected as alternate. In the event neither of the semi-finalists is able to fulfill the commitment to travel abroad. The names of the semi-finalists will be submitted to AFS headquarters in New York for selection of the finalist.

Hunting Safety Meeting Tonight

The first of a series of three classes to teach hunting safety to young people will be held tonight at 7 o'clock at the Brokenstraw Fish and Game Club headquarters, Mead Run Road, near Youngsville. The course, sponsored by the club, is designed for boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 16. Interested adults are invited to "sit in". There is no charge. The subject matter follows approved State and National Rifle Association recommendations. Norris Freeborough of Pittsfield will direct the program, assisted by Theo (Ted) Yucha of Youngsville and Benny Muczynski, Youngsville R.D. Game warden Donald C. Parr of Tidoute will administer a test at the final session on Thursday, October 17, and the class will have an opportunity to test their shooting skills on the club trap. Freeborough points out that next year it will be compulsory for any person over 12 who has not previously hunted in Pennsylvania to take a safety training course before being able to purchase a license. The club hopes to put on two training courses next year, one in the spring and one in August, in anticipation of the new regulation. Meantime young people of the area are strongly urged to take advantage of the opportunity to learn to hunt safely, in time for this year's season.

Happenings Years Ago

Elizabeth Bathurst, Jeanne Clark and Ruth Ann Granquist will leave for Gowanda, N.Y., where they will spend three months at Gowanda State Hospital in the study of psychiatric nursing. The girls are all senior students at the WCA School of Nursing in Jamestown, N.Y. Music lovers relaxed with the knowledge that the Philadelphia Orchestra Association will conduct the regular concert series. An agreement between the musicians union and the association was reached.

1958
The Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge, rector of Trinity Memorial Church, will leave by plane for Miami Beach, Fla., where he will attend the 59th convention of the Episcopal denomination.

F. A. Mitchell, 522 Conewango ave., recalled it was 59 or 60 years ago that the section was visited by a heavy autumn snow storm that caused considerable damage to trees and foliage.

Beginning in 1820 with Maria Hester Monroe, seven daughters of Presidents have been married in the White House. Grover Cleveland was the only President to marry there.

She is considering a college career leading to Library Science qualifications. New 10% surtax makes owning 5½% municipal bonds even more profitable.

Just how profitable depends on your tax bracket. The higher your bracket, the more attractive the tax-free feature of municipals becomes. Since interest earned on municipal bonds is not subject to federal income tax, the net return will be greater than the after tax return from comparable, fully taxable, securities and deposits. We have available a selection of good quality municipal bonds now yielding 5½%.

Pennsylvania municipal bonds are free of personal property tax, as well as federal tax.

This table shows the return investors in various tax brackets must get on taxable investments to equal a 5½% return on tax-free bonds.

Two Venango Escapees Nabbed in Lake Pleasant

ERIE—Two escapees from Venango County jail in Franklin, who saved their way out last Wednesday morning, were captured near Lake Pleasant Tuesday night.

Working on a tip that the pair's getaway car had been seen in the area, state police at Lawrence Park surrounded the home of a relative of one of the men.

Two detectives and four troopers from Lawrence Park with two troopers from the Corry substation converged on the house, according to Det. Sgts.

George Barron and Lewis A. Rickert.

Returned to Venango County jail late Tuesday night were Gary Davenport, 18, of Franklin and Billy Wayne Walls, 31, RD 1, Union City.

Police had received a report that a 1967 Plymouth, stolen in Pleasantville and believed to be used in the inmate's escape had been seen in the area.

Davenport, an AWOL Marine, had been arrested early in September for burglary, larceny and receiving stolen goods. Walls was charged with the same crimes last July.

Franklin-based state police charged the pair with prison breach.

GIBSON FIRES 17th STRIKEOUT

Bob Gibson of St. Louis fires his seventeenth broke the old series record of 15 strikeouts strikeout in yesterday's game with the Detroit set by Sandy Koufax in 1963. The Cardinals Tigers in the World Series Opener. Gibson won the opener over Detroit 4-0.

Mgr. Schoendienst Calls It 'One of Bob's Best Efforts'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Manager Red Schoendienst, pitcher Bob Gibson and the St. Louis Cardinals agreed on one thing: Gibson's shutout victory over Detroit in the first game of the 1968 World Series was one of Gibson's best efforts.

"This was one of the best games by Gibson," Schoendienst said. "I'd have to say yes. After all, how many pitchers strike out 17 batters? He's pitched just as well at other times but just didn't get as many strikeouts."

The 17 Tigers Gibson fanned broke the World Series record of 15 set by Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers against the New York Yankees in 1963.

Someone asked if the "easy" victory over the Tigers and their pitching ace, 31-game winner Denny McLain, would make the Cardinals complacent.

"Easy?" Schoendienst replied. "I didn't think it was that easy. We just got a couple of hits at the right time."

What about McLain?

"We'd never seen McLain, Schoendienst said, "but we knew if we'd lay off his high stuff—pitches above the shoulder, up around the neck and eye level — and make him throw strikes we'd have him,"

Gibson, who won 15 games in a row during the regular season, didn't call it his best game, but said it was one of the most important.

And he said he thought the Tigers were surprised by his breaking stuff.

"They were swinging at my curve like it was a fast ball," Gibson said.

Gibson said he threw his slider a lot when he was behind the batter, but that most of his third strikes were chalked up with his fast ball.

Catcher Tim McCarver said he and Gibson never got together and talked over the Detroit batters.

"We talked about them at team meetings, but Gibby and I never discussed them," McCarver said.

Base stealing ace Lou Brock jammed his right shoulder in the third inning when he stole second with a slide.

"I did the same thing early in the season," Brock said. "You never know how much it'll bother you until the next day."

It didn't bother Brock during the rest of the opening game. He hit a long home run in the seventh.

Tigers Left Cold as Gibson Hums Breaks Koufax's Mark Of Fifteen Set in '63

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Bullet Bob Gibson set a record with 17 strikeouts, beating 31-game winner Denny McLain in their batted duel yesterday to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 4-0 victory over the Detroit Tigers in the opening World Series game.

The 32-year-old star of the 1967 Series, who shattered National League regular season record with a 1.12 earned run mark, won his sixth straight Series game. This equaled the old mark held jointly by Lefty Gomez and Red Ruffing of the New York Yankees.

McLain was victimized by three Tiger errors and his own wildness before he left the game for a pinch hitter, trailing 3-0, in the sixth. The Detroit ace was no match for the veteran Card, who displayed a dazzling mixture of speed, curve and change-up.

Gibson struck out everybody in the Tiger batting order at least once as he moved on the record set by Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers against the Yankees in 1963.

The band blared "Hold That Tiger" and the largest crowd ever to see a game in St. Louis, 54,692, followed Gibson's attempt on the record.

When he fanned Al Kaline for his 15th in the ninth, the excited crowd stood up and gave the pitcher an ovation.

That was nothing to the cheers that swept across jam-packed Busch Stadium when Norm Cash, after fouling off three pitches, became the record-breaking 16th victim. Somebody threw a giant cannon cracker onto the field. It was the third time Kaline and Cash had struck out.

Gibson put the icing on the cake by throwing a third called strike past Willie Horton for No. 17 to end the game in dramatic fashion. His teammates mobbed him as he strode toward the bench and a post-game television interview.

Enroute to the record, Gibson got Kaline and Cash each three times, Horton, Jim Northrup and Bill Freehan each twice and Dick McAuliffe, Mickey Stanley, Don Wert, McLain and pinch hitter Eddie Mathews once.

"I knew they'd be swinging a lot," Gibson said. "Fortunately, all my pitches were working for me. I think the curve ball surprised them. I don't think it was in the scouting report."

When somebody asked Mayo Smith, the Detroit manager, what he thought of Gibson, he answered:

"It's like the old story when somebody asked Mrs. Lincoln how she liked the play. He was the best I've ever seen him. He was the whole story of the game."

The speedy Cards stole three bases and had only one man thrown out by catcher Freehan. Freehan threw the ball into center for an error after Brock stole second in the third. Horton made his error in the fourth and Cash let Maris' ground ball go through his legs for the third error in the fifth.

"They seem like a good ball club," said Gibson when asked about the Tigers. "You can't tell much when a team is shut out. I do know they have a lot of home run hitters."

The Cardinals struck quickly in the fourth when McLain suddenly lost his control. He walked Roger Maris on four straight pitches, retired Orlando Cepeda on a foul pop to Norm Cash and then walked Tim McCarver on four pitches.

Mike Shannon singled to left field, scoring Maris with the first run. When the ball went through Willie Horton for an error, McCarver moved to third and Shannon to second. Julian Javier then singled on the ground to right, driving in McCarver and Shannon.

Lou Brock, who had stolen a base in the third, ripped a pitch by relief pitcher Pat Dobson into the right center field stands, about 400 feet away, for the fourth Card run in the seventh.

The Tigers, held to five hits, made their only serious threat in the sixth when Dick Mc-

Luiff singled and Al Kaline doubled. With men on second and third and two out, Gibson reached back for that something extra and struck out Cash.

The only other Tiger hits were a single by Stanley in the first, a single by Wert in the third and a leadoff single by Stanley in the ninth.

Gibson said in the interview room that he did not know about the record until he looked at the scoreboard and read "something about 16 strikeouts."

"I have thrown better," he said. "I think it was more of a surprise thing than anything else. They hadn't seen me before. It's nice to have the record."

Gibson's victory, and his availability for work in the fourth and seventh games if necessary, put the world champ Cards firmly in the driver's seat.

For the second game Thursday at Busch Stadium, the Cards will call on Nelson Briles, 25-year-old right-hander with a 19-11 record, against Mickey Lolich, Detroit lefty who had a 17-9 season record.

Gibson threw 144 pitches in notching his sixth successive complete game victory in Series competition. Gomez won six in a row from 1932 to 1938 and Ruffing spread his six straight from 1937 to 1942. Red had five straight complete games from 1937 to 1941, the record he had shared with Gibson until this game.

McLain, baseball's first 31-game winner since Lefty Grove in 1931, lost but was not outclassed. He gave up only three hits in five innings but the two walks in the fourth and the costly error by Horton were too much against a man like Gibson.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Bob Gibson gave the Detroit Tigers more breaks than they'd bargained for ... and turned Wednesday's World Series opener into a wholesale strike-out spree.

"I think I surprised them by throwing so many breaking pitches," the brilliant St. Louis right-hander said after blanking Detroit 4-0 and shattering Sandy Koufax' Series record with 17 strikeouts.

"I was a pitcher they'd never seen," Gibson said. "I imagine their scouting reports said I threw mostly fast balls. But I had good breaking stuff today, so I went to it."

"If I hadn't been able to get the breaking pitches—sliders and curve balls—over, I think I might have had a little more trouble."

The unflappable Cardinal ace made a mismatch of his heralded duel with Denny McLain, the Tigers' 31-game winner. He scattered five hits and sent the crowd of 54,692—largest ever for a baseball game in St. Louis—into a frenzied uproar by fanning Al Kaline, Norm Cash and Willie Horton in the ninth to break Koufax' 1963 Series record of 15 strikeouts.

The fans gave Gibson an ovation after each strikeout in the ninth ... and shook him up for the only time in the game.

"I didn't know what all the noise was about," he said. "I wasn't aware of the record. I saw Tim McCarver walk out in front of the plate, so I looked around at the scoreboard to see what was happening."

Gibson, who also tied the Series mark of six straight victories previously shared by Red Ruffing and Lefty Gomez of the New York Yankees, took the records in stride ... just as he'd done during the regular season while posting a 1.12 earned run average, lowest in National League history.

"I'm never surprised at anything I do," he said. "I wasn't aware of the record either. I was too preoccupied with winning a ball game."

Neither was Gibson surprised when McLain left the game for a pinch hitter in the sixth inning after yielding the first three St. Louis runs.

"I was thankful, that's all," Gibson said. "He held us to no runs until the fifth inning, and we're a pretty good ball club. (N) he didn't say anything to me. (N) only saw him from a distance."

Gibson threw 144 pitches, a relatively high number for him. "I think the reason for that is that I was striking out 17 guys. I'd never done that before. When you have a lot of strikeouts, you throw a lot of pitches," he said.

"I would rather pitch against a team with a lot of home run hitters," the 32-year-old fireballer said of the power hitting Tigers. "They swing at more pitches. And they swing at more bad pitches."

Dragon Coach Shea Predicts An Aerial Game With Young

By DENNY BONAVITA

"Though Meadville hasn't won yet, they've progressively improved each game. We have enough respect for them to expect a real good game this Saturday."

These remarks by Warren High coach Toby Shea highlighted Wednesday's Sports Boosters meeting, as about 125 fans gathered to hear the Dragon mentor comment on the upcoming clash and narrate films of last Friday's 14-0 Warren win at Oil City.

"We hope to open up our attack a little more," said

Shea, and I think we'll pass more, now that Craig Young has gained some good experience and confidence."

Commenting on the fact that the Dragons actually threw only one pass against Oil City, Shea noted that "we did call two more passes, but Craig got caught in the backfield both times. So since our running game was working, we decided to leave well enough alone and stick to the ground."

"We're (the coaching staff) happy again this week," Shea said. "Mental errors in the second half kept keeping us from getting sustained drives going, but on the whole the boys did well."

During the narration of the game films, Shea noted that Warren's defensive secondary was reading plays well, and praised his charges for playing headsup football. Linemen Tim Coulter and John Marchione, as well as back Dan Reynolds, got kudos from the coach for refusing to be fooled on defense.

"And Steve Tundel is averaging over 130 yards a game for us," Shea noted. The films verified that the big back ground out extra yardage time and again with second-effort determination.

Again discussing the Bulldogs, Shea observed that Meadville's halfbacks, while not blessed with blazing speed, are "sneaky fast. And their fullback is a strong runner."

Young will definitely be the Dragons' starting quarterback, but tackle Tim Coulter is still a question mark for Saturday's game. If he's unable to start, Shea will choose from 190-pound senior Dan Haden, 240-pound senior Lee Bryan, and 225-pound junior Jim Phillips, with Haden reportedly holding the inside track.

John Smith, Booster president, announced that plans are being finalized to send the football team to the Nov. 23 Penn State game. The Boosters are also currently considering setting up a scholarship program to aid WAHS athletes who go on to college.

Next week's meeting will start at 8 p.m. Instead of 8:30 to allow for the showing of a professional football film during the refreshment period.

FIGHTS END IN PROBATION

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Dist. 3 Committee of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association Wednesday night ordered that William Penn High School in York be placed on probation for an indefinite period.

The committee issued the ruling following a protest lodged by Cedar Cliff High School of suburban Harrisburg as the result of violence that followed a football game between the two schools in York Sept. 20.

Cedar Cliff claimed its students and fans who attended the game were attacked after York defeated Cedar Cliff in a close game.

The committee said the probation would be removed when the York principal is able to assure the committee of the personal welfare and safety of visiting teams and spectators.

"During this period of probation," the committee ruled, "all interscholastic athletic contests engaged in by William Penn (York) shall be conducted away from home at a site acceptable to both schools."

The action is effective immediately.

NEW YORK (AP) — What can you do for a Purdue-Notre Dame encore? Well, for one thing, you can send the two best teams on the Pacific Coast, Southern Cal and UCLA, against two of the best from the East and South.

You also can call 'em fast and get out of town—to Mexico, for instance. Last week's score 47-16 for '746. Season score: 788. Southern California 25, Miami, Fla. 20. The Hurricanes blow and blow but they can't dislodge the Trojans' special brand of orange juice.

UCLA 30, Syracuse 21. Tommy Prothro doesn't forget quickly, so he atones for last year's clobbering by the Orange.

Notre Dame 28, Iowa 10: A tremendous letdown for the Fighting Irish but depth prevents a second hard blow. Purdue 33, Northwestern 7: The Bollermakers are undisputed No. 1 and Leroy Keyes can be kept under wraps for this one.

Missouri 17, Army 14: Coming off their loss to Vanderbilt, the Cadets can find little comfort in an improving Missouri.

Penn State 25, West Virginia 14: The Nittany Lions must put handcuffs on a quarterback named Mike Sherwood.

Alabama 19, Mississippi 7: You can bet the Bear tanned the hide of the Tide after last week's squeaker.

Tennessee 16, Rice 7: Bubba Wyche is getting some experience under his belt and the Vols should get better.

Stanford 23, Air Force 14: The Indians must think General George Custer flew an airplane. Georgia 16, South Carolina 10: The Bulldogs pluck another feather from the neighboring conference.

DUFFY DAUGHERTY

Head Football Coach Michigan State University

With the spectacular games and high scoring we've seen and read about so early in the fall college football has nothing to fear about the pro game making further inroads.

With pro ball continually expanding to gain greater national appeal in its quest for the entertainment dollar there had been fears that the college game would be hurt. Forget it.

College football has more than kept pace. Attendance has increased and will continue to increase because of the quality of entertainment.

The trend of high scoring will continue because all teams seem to have a more varied offense than in the past. The game is wide open with multiple formations and spreading all over the field. The system of attack has opened up the defense which in the last few years had dominated football.

The wide slots and double flankers are forcing the defense to change formation. There is more passing and more passes being completed because of the pass-run option play. No longer can a team grind out a touchdown and try to have its defense protect a lead. Leads of two and three touchdowns no longer offer safety.

The comparison of how the college game is changing was noticeable when Southern Methodist put 69 passes into the air for a record 417 yards against a fine Ohio State team only to lose, 35-14.

And Purdue's 37-22 victory over Notre Dame had the anticipated action and drama featuring Leroy Keyes, the best all around football player in the nation.

Keyes really was on the spot because the true test of a great athlete comes when he's under fire against powerhouse team. Against the Irish, Leroy excelled beyond the fondest expectations of his biggest rooters, and that includes Coach Jack Millenkopf.

From now on all teams are heading into their conference races. Each week many games will have a great bearing on the national rankings and conference standings. Fans, players and coaches alike will be watching the polls with added interest.

Wire service polls bring out sectional rivalries in a partisan way. Every section has a favorite. However, there seems only one question left regarding the polls. Who is No. 2? There is no doubt about Purdue's right to hold down the coveted No. 1 spot.

Mollenkopf was somewhat miffed last fall when his Boilermakers gained a share of the Big Ten title and didn't get to the Rose Bowl. This time we feel versatile Keyes—runner, passer, pass catcher and pass defender—will lead the veteran coach to the sweet smell of roses in Pasadena.

Warren, Eisenhower Should Win; Sheffield, Youngsville May Not

By DAVE PIRILLO

We've done it. It took three weeks, but now we're able to walk down the street without getting jumped about "Whom are you picking this week? Think I'll pick just the opposite."

When we heard the news of Eisenhower's victory over Frewsburg Saturday afternoon, our morale shot up. It meant that we picked all four county teams correctly, and raised our season percentage to a respectable .700. Now it doesn't seem such a chore picking this week's games.

Shutouts were the Warren County rule last week, with all teams but Sheffield coming out on top. Warren beat Oil City 14-0, Youngsville blanked Saegertown 18-0, Eisenhower slapped Frewsburg 31-0, and Elk County Christian bopped Sheffield, 21-0.

Warren, as expected, won again Friday evening, as Craig Young gained the valuable experience he needed in game competition at quarterback, and the Oilers provided a morale booster for the Dragons.

Young sparked both ways for Warren with a 52-yard touchdown pass, a pass interception and a recovered Oiler fumble. He was obviously familiar with the first team's timing, and it paid off with greatly improved faking into the line. As the weeks pass, we feel that it's going to be hard indeed to take Young out of either the offensive or defensive lineup.

As for Steve Tundel—he's Mr. Dragon. The power runner carried 20 times in the first half at Oil City, and didn't lose a yard. Time and again, his sheer desire and drive gained him two or three extra yards, dragging Oiler tacklers with him.

Now to Meadville. We see the punless Bulldogs, now 0-3-1, dropping this one to Warren by 13 points. They don't have offensive punch and they make one mistake too many on both offense and defense. They may score a touchdown, but that's as far as they'll go against the Warren team.

WARREN 19 MEADVILLE 6

It's good to see Youngsville break into the win column, especially the way they did it last week. They deserved this one, as their play was excellent and they showed plenty of spirit—more like a season opener than a team that had lost three straight.

Youngsville's defensive backfield stole the show. Literally, that is, as they intercepted six of Saegertown's passes. Defender Randy Yucha blocked a Panther punt on Saegertown's eight to set up a score, and Jack Mazze put the lid on the game with a 37-yard interception runback for the final touchdown. And Tom Burleigh proved he's "Mr. Sparkplug" again.

Randolph-East Mead, with its 3-0-1 record, is a solid squad; they are currently in first place, tied with Cambridge Springs and Townville, in the Crawford County League.

The Rockets' touchdown tandem of halfbacks Dave Jenkins and Chris Young make us lean toward Randolph on this one. In last week's game these two scored a pair of touchdowns apiece en route to a 28-0 clobbering of Conneaut Valley.

We're giving the visitors a seven-point spread.

RANDOLPH-EAST MEAD 13 YOUNGSVILLE 6

Injuries can hurt any team anytime—ask Eisenhower; they've had their share in Knightland. But after last week, we view the Knights as an exception to the rule. With three offensive linemen injured and starting quarterback Jamie Nesmith's neck hurting, Eisenhower still pulverized Frewsburg.

Ken Burford is a name the Bears will remember all week. The young Knight was great in the clutch with a 79-yard interception return and a 30-yard reception from Bob Passinger for two touchdowns. The latter was a classic; Passinger faked a punt and then found Burford all by himself for the score.

This week Ike travels to Maple Grove, N.Y., for its third straight road game. From advance indications, it should be a close affair. The New Yorkers are still smarting from an opening game 46-12 trouncing by Westfield. We're relying on Ike again in a squeaker.

EISENHOWER 7 MAPLE GROVE 6

You can't score when you can't keep the ball. After Saturday's loss, Sheffield should be prepared to write a term paper on this subject.

The Wolverines looked good on defense, but they played too much of it, and a battle fatigue of sorts set in. Sheffield's offense hasn't regained its sharpness since the first half of the Otto-Eldred tilt when it scored 19 points. Rob Hart's loss due to an ankle injury hurts the pass receiving. The Wolverines had to rely on two long breakaways two weeks ago for their scores against Youngsville.

And this week the Hubbers of Smethport come to town. This is a rivalry and a half, and Smethport rides a four-game win streak into town. We feel their offense will be just too high-gear for the Orange and Black to cope with. So, we'll say Smethport by 14 points.

North Dakota State Tops Small Schools

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The North Dakota State Bison moved up to second place behind powerful San Diego State in The Associated Press' small college football poll Wednesday. The Bisons, a 31-13 victor over Northern Illinois, switched positions with Eastern Kentucky. The Colonels fell to third after edging East Tennessee State 23-20.

San Diego State held first place after downing Montana State 34-22 for its third straight triumph without defeat. The Aztecs collected 12 first-place votes and 310 points in the balloting by a regional panel of 16 sports writers and broadcasters. North Dakota State, also 3-0, accumulated 198 points and Eastern Kentucky, 2-0, 186.

Northern Michigan, a 28-24 winner over Central Michigan, rushed up three places to fourth while Lenoir Rhyne slipped a notch to fifth despite a 17-7 triumph over Presbyterian.

Weber State advanced from 12th to sixth after downing Northern Arizona 21-14. Texas A&M climbed three places to seventh and New Mexico Highlands leaped from 13th to eighth. The Cowboys overwhelmed Hiram Scott 72-0.

No Breather For Pitt This Week

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Last week, admitted Coach Dave Hart of Pitt, was the most important week of coaching in his life.

That was before the Panthers were clobbered 38-15 by West Virginia, and now Pitt finds itself at the crossroads again with William & Mary coming in Saturday.

"We've got a big job to do," says a disillusioned Hart, "... but I still have confidence in our young men."

On a schedule that includes UCLA, Notre Dame, Miami and Penn State, people tend to look at William & Mary as a breather. But for Pitt, every week is the Super Bowl, and Hart doesn't think his team will overlook the Indians.

The game is rated even. William & Mary already has won once, and last year it tied West Virginia and beat Navy. Pitt did none of that.

Hart, whose teams have lost 20 of 22 games since 1966, is on the spot, but he helped put himself there. Pitt billed this season as "The year the Panther begins to growl," and Hart said he'd be the "most disappointed man in Pittsburgh" if he didn't win at least five games.

So far, the Panthers are 0-2, they've been outscored 101-22 and there have been very few bright spots.

That brings them to William & Mary, supposedly the soft spot on the schedule, but a team with better credentials than some may suspect.

William & Mary, 5-4-1 in 1967, has beaten East Carolina 14-0 and lost to Virginia Tech 12-0 but its defense is unscathed on and has yielded only 311 yards in two games.

The Indians are rebuilding—they lost 23 lettermen, many of them three-year starters—but coach Mary Levy has built a respectable offense around inexperienced quarterbacks Wes Meeteer and Jim Laycock. Middle guard Burt Waite, a Pennsylvanian by the way, anchors the defense.

Meeteer, a sophomore has completed 15 of 30 passes for 157 yards and Laycock, a junior who played three games last year before injuring his knee, has hit 10 of 15 for 123 yards.

AT FOREST COUNTY PROGRAM

Deborah McWilliams and William Andring
Crowned 4-H Queen and King

Miss Deborah McWilliams and William Andring were crowned 1969 4-H Queen and King at the annual Forest County 4-H Achievement Program held recently in the West Forest School, Tionesta.

Miss McWilliams is the 17 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McWilliams of R.D. 2, Tidioute. In 4-H club work for eight years, she now serves as teen leader of the Hickory Green Thumbs and secretary of the Forest County 4-H Teen Leaders.

As teen leader Debbie has helped younger members with their projects. She has helped plan and conduct many county activities including Officers Training, Roundup and 4-H Vespers Service.

She has taken projects in ornamental horticulture, vegetable gardening, and leadership. Debbie has participated in many regional and state 4-H events including demonstrations, camp counselor, Leader Training Camp (Kanesatake), Pennsylvania 4-H Congress at Pennsylvania State University and the Citizenship Shortcourse in Washington, D.C.

Miss McWilliams is a senior at West Forest where she is an honor student. Here she is also active in extra curricular activities: band, chorus, and school plays.

William Andring is the 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Andring of Marienville. Bill, a member of the Marienville Green Thumbs and Safety Circuits is a teen leader, too. He has also held the office of news reporter, game leader and president of his club.

This year Andring was chosen as a Forest County delegate to State 4-H Capital Days in Harrisburg. He also has been active in demonstrations on landscaping.

Besides his activities in 4-H, Andring, an honor student at East Forest School is president of his junior class, a member of the band, yearbook staff, and science club. Andring is also a Life Boy Scout.

The crowning was done by the 1968 4-H Queen and King, Miss Janis Wagner, R.D. 1, Tionesta and Dean McFall, East Hickory. Miss Sandra Mealy, 1967 Queen was mistress of ceremonies for the event and presented the king and queen with trophies and checks.

Putting-you-firsts:

(A quick tour of some of the thoughtful new features the 1969 Chevrolets offer that other cars in Chevrolet's field don't.)

Headlight washers
You push the windshield washer knob and hold it, and what happens? Your headlights come clean. Fluid is diverted to two jet nozzles at each light lens. (Outer lights only on duals.)
The spray is strong. It removes up to 80% of accumulated dirt.
The feature is standard on 1969 Corvettes.
It comes with the hidden headlights available on Camaro, Caprice, and Kingswood Estate Wagons.
It is available on all other models except Corvair.
Be the first on your block.

Heated glass
In a moment your rear window will self-defrost.
Because we've built onto it a network of tiny ceramic strips capable of heating the entire surface.
Fog and frost disappear quickly and quietly.
You just flick a switch.
The heated rear window is available on the 1969 Caprice Coupe and Impala Custom Coupe.

Pushbutton tire chains
This is ingenious, if we do say so ourselves.
You press a button on the instrument panel and the rear tires get a shot of "liquid tire chain."
You spin your wheels once, wait a moment, and you're off—with traction you wouldn't believe possible on slick ice, or packed snow.

A pressurized container sits up under each rear wheelhousing, and holds about 15 applications.
Which could get you through several winters in some parts of the country. (Several weeks in others.)
Available on all 1969 big Chevrolets.

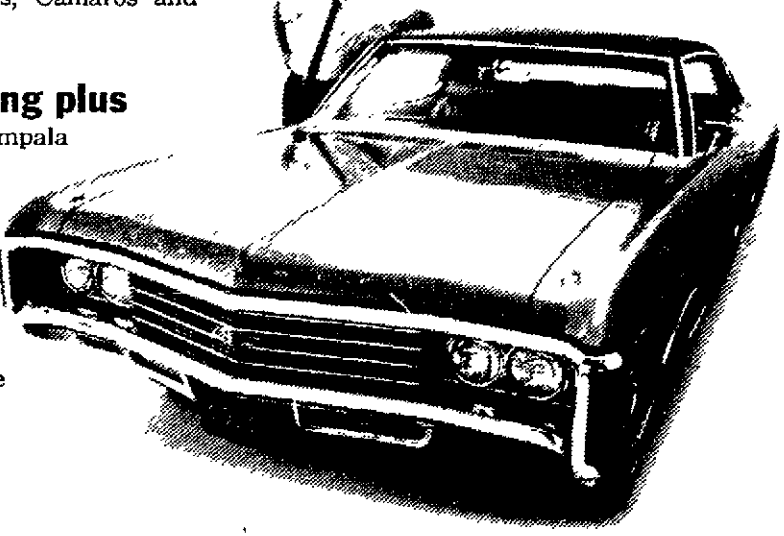

Steering wheel lock
When you own a car as desirable as the 1969 Chevrolet, you don't take chances. When you leave it, you lock it. Not just the doors.
You lock the ignition, steering wheel and transmission lever, too.
Our new lock on the steering column takes care of all that.
So even if somebody manages to break in and cross the wires, he'll have a hard time going anywhere.
Standard on all 1969 Chevrolets, Chevelles, Chevy Novas, Camaros and Corvettes.
Sorry, car thieves.

Power steering plus
The 1969 Caprice, Impala and Camaro are available with a new type of power steering. Variable-ratio power steering.
What it does is give you faster steering with fewer turns of the wheel.
And with no increase in effort on your part.

(And without giving up that nice firm feel on straightaways.)
Variable-ratio power steering is particularly helpful in short, full turns.
And parking becomes unbelievably easy.
You'll see.

Walk-in wagons
The tailgate swings open like a door on most of our 1969 station wagons. Which in itself is no big deal.
But wait, there's more.
We've built a concealed step into the rear bumper.
You simply step up, over, and in. (The way we build our wagons, you can do it without bumping your head, and without acrobatics.)
Walk into a wagon soon at your Chevrolet dealer's.

WARREN COUNTY GROUP WEEKEND HOSTS

Outdoor Writers' Meeting Opens Friday

The wide interest being shown by outdoor writers from the Tri-state area in the "Explore Kinzua Country" program being sponsored by the Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau this coming weekend is mostly the result of a well planned program. And the well planned program is mostly the result of the willingness of local organizations and individuals to cooperate in setting up various items of entertainment for the visitors from Ohio, New York and Western Pennsylvania.

From the beginning, the committee has realized that only through such cooperation would the event be a success. That the "community involvement" they ask for has been forthcoming is demonstrated by the many diversified activities, from which the guest can choose those of most personal interest, offered in the following program of events.

Scenic Rivers Designated By Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — Segments of eight rivers were designated as initial components of a National Wild and Scenic Rivers system in legislation signed Wednesday by President Johnson.

Another 27 river segments are named for study for potential addition to the system in later acts of Congress.

Rivers in the system established by the bill are to be preserved in free-flowing condition and protected from developments that would infringe upon their scenic and recreational values.

The bill carries an initial limitation of $17 million for land acquisition.

The eight rivers designated initially, with boundaries of each unit to be fixed within a year by either the Interior or Agriculture Department, are:

Clearwater, Middle Fork, Idaho; Eleven Point, Missouri; Feather, Middle Fork, California; Rio Grande, New Mexico; Rogue, Oregon; Saint Croix, Minn. and Wis., including its tributary the Namekagon; Salmon, Middle Fork, Idaho; and Wolf, Wisconsin.

Among those designated for study are portions of these rivers:

Allegheny, Pa.; Clarion, Pa.; Delaware, Pa.; and N.Y.: and Youghiogheny, Md and Pa.

New Canal Linking Lakes Said Necessary

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Since there is an existing canal linking Lake Erie and Lake Ontario, why build another?

Because, explains Donald M. Liddell, chief of hydraulics for the U.S. Army Engineers at Buffalo, N.Y., the existing Welland Canal is 36 years old and has just about reached the point where it can't handle any more tonnage or accommodate the bigger lake vessels now being built.

"The new canal," he said, "would be able to handle the overflow and also accommodate much larger ships."

Liddell told a structural engineering conference of the American Society of Civil Engineers Wednesday that a study is now being made to determine if the new canal is feasible.

To be built entirely within the United States, the new waterway would follow the Niagara River for 15 miles then cut overland via a 600-foot wide canal 17 to 25 miles long, depending on the specific route.

Liddell noted that a Welland Canal lock is only 80 feet wide by 859 feet in length compared to the larger locks now being built to handle bigger ships. For example, he said, a lock nearing completion at St. Sault Marie measures 110 by 1,200 feet.

"They've made improvements here and there on the Welland Canal to increase its capacity and decrease lockage time," he said, "but they've just about reached capacity."

MERCHANTS FIND A WAY

Would you believe a parking meter that gives you money? The closest thing to it was unveiled this week when the city of Van Nuys, Calif., became the first community in the nation to install the unique "Golden Circle" parking meters that gave back a token when you insert a coin. The token is redeemed by participating local merchants.

Woman in Birmingham, Eng. Gives Birth to Sextuplets

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP) — After 10 years of childless marriage, a woman who had been treated with a fertility drug gave birth on her 30th birthday Wednesday to sextuplets. One of the four girls lived only an hour.

The four girls and two boys, born live and two months premature, weighed between two and three pounds each at Birmingham Maternity Hospital.

The hospital first said the mother and the five surviving babies were well. A later hospital statement gave the babies a 50-50 chance of survival.

The mother, Sheila Ann Thorns, had not yet been allowed to see the babies when she said, "If I just get one or two alive out of this, I shall be happy."

Police Probe Second Truck Attack

MERCER, Pa. (AP) — Police are investigating the second attack on an Eazor Express Co. truck in two days in the Mercer area.

The latest incident occurred Tuesday night when a man hurled a rock at an Eazor truck from alongside Interstate 79 about 15 miles south of Mercer. Driver William Scheffer, 40, of Dearborn, Mich., cut about the face, halted the truck, but the man fled. Scheffer was treated at Eashline Hospital in Grove City then was released.

Early Monday, two shots fired from a station wagon hit an Eazor truck in the Sheakleyville area north of Mercer, but the driver wasn't hurt.

Most of Eazor's operations were slowed recently by a strike, but all its employees are now back at work.

At Kennedy Airport in New York, Pan American's new freight terminal can load or unload 45 tons of jet cargo in 20 minutes.

She has spent the last 22 weeks in hospitals and had known since August that she would have six children.

Her husband, Norman, a 33-year-old draftsman, said his wife had taken a fertility drug for the last two years.

"We have wanted children all our married life," he said after seeing his wife in the hospital and bringing her flowers.

British medical authorities said they could not recall a previous case of sextuplets in this country.

They said multiple births have become more common because of the use of fertility drugs.

There have been reports of some 20 sets of sextuplets born in the world since 1900 but several of these were never confirmed.

A Mexican woman gave birth to eight children in March 1967. All died at birth.

There have also been reports of septuplets—seven children—who died shortly after birth.

The Thorns sextuplets, were delivered within three minutes by Caesarian section performed by a team of 28 specialists led by Dr. Margaret Shotton, 53, consultant obstetrician at the hospital. The hospital, opened only two months ago, is among the best equipped of its kind in Britain.

Thorns said the couple had picked out five girls' names and five boys' names. They decided on Ian, Roger, Lynne, Julie and Susan for the five survivors.

Dr. Ben Wood, the pediatrician in charge of the babies, said Mrs. Thorns' condition was "satisfactory" and the five surviving babies were extremely frail, but fairly satisfactory.

"Some of them are having special treatment because they were suffering from malnutrition in the womb by having to share with the others," he said. "It will be a week before we know the outcome."

Scenic Trails Are Named In Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed Wednesday a bill designating the Appalachian and Pacific Crest trails as the first units of a nationwide system of scenic trails.

The legislation designates 14 other trails for study and possible future inclusion in the system for their scenic, historic and recreational value.

Primary emphasis is to be placed on trails near urban areas.

The 20,000-mile Appalachian Trail from Maine to Georgia is to be administered by the National Park Service primarily as a footpath. Land acquisition is to be limited to 25 acres per mile and to the expenditure of $5 million.

Routes designated for study include the:

3,100 miles from the Mexican border in southwestern New Mexico generally along the Continental Divide to the Canadian border in Glacier National Park, Montana.

—Potomac Heritage trail, 825 miles from the mouth of the Potomac river to its sources in Pennsylvania and West Virginia, including the 170-mile Chesapeake and Ohio Canal towpath.

—North Country Trail, 3,200 miles from the Appalachian Trail in Vermont through New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, and Minnesota to the Lewis and Clark Trail in North Dakota.

—Kittanning Trail, from Shireysburg to Kittanning, Pa.

MORE PAPER FOR INDIA

NEW DELHI (AP) — India produces only 40 per cent of its newsprint needs every year. But it hopes to attain self-sufficiency in five years.

A government spokesman said India will produce about 80,000 tons of newsprint and import 120,000 tons at a cost of 137.5 million rupees ($18.3 million) in 1968.

Work is proceeding on the expansion of the government-owned Nepa mills in central India, where it is hoped annual production will be increased from 30,000 to 75,000 tons a year. This will result in an annual saving of 80 million rupees ($11 million) of foreign exchange beginning in 1970.

Four new mills also have been sanctioned, and are to be completed by 1972.

Men Captured Following Wild, Bullet-Filled Chase

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—State police captured two men Wednesday when their auto ran out of fuel after a bullet-filled, high-speed chase through northern Lackawanna County.

State patrolman Francis Kostur was wounded slightly in the left forearm by shotgun pellets, and two state police cars were damaged by gunfire.

Kostur, and other men from the Dunmore barracks, said they grabbed Donald R. Race, 36, and Howard R. Slocum, 34, both of LaPlume, when their car stopped, out of fuel, in Wallsville.

They were taken to the barracks for questioning. No charges were filed.

Kostur began the chase near Fleetville when he went to investigate a shooting incident at the home of Joseph Garbarini.

Garbarini said two men fired shotgun blasts at him through a window and through the front door. He said they pursued him up the stairs, but he leaped from a second-floor window and ran to a neighbor's home and called police.

Police couldn't say what led to the attack on Garbarini.

Kostur investigated and started on the trail taken by the gunmen's auto. He said he came across Race's and Slocum's car and gave chase.

Kostur said one man leaped over backroads and fired a shotgun at him. Kostur said he fired 12 times at the fleeing auto.

WARREN TIMES-MIRROR AND OBSERVER

WARREN, PA., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1968

Former Reporter Karafin Convicted of Blackmail

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A jury late Tuesday found former reporter Harry J. Karafin guilty of blackmail and unlawful solicitation.

The jury started its deliberations in the case at 2:10 p.m. and returned its verdict at 4:25 p.m. It found Karafin guilty on 20 bills of blackmail and 20 of unlawful solicitation by an employee.

While waiting for the jury to return to the courtroom, Karafin was overheard to remark: "This quick, it doesn't look good."

The verdicts were read by the jury foreman, Joseph P. Brennan, a retired accountant.

A courtcrier read the charge on each indictment and each time Brennan replied, "We find the defendant guilty."

This was repeated 40 times. While the verdicts were being read, Karafin stood at the defense table, his left arm resting lightly on the bar of the court. He looked around the courtroom and at one point handed his lawyer a ball pointpen with which to record the verdicts.

The case went to the jury after a two-hour charge by Judge Robert N.C. Mix Jr.

In his summation, the judge said: "This is a most serious case. The right of the free press is highly regarded in this country."

Karafin was charged with blackmail and unlawful solicitation by an employee. He was accused of using his position as an investigative reporter for the Philadelphia Inquirer to shake down businessmen and persons in the news.

During the charge, the judge said of Sylvan Scolnick, one of the commonwealth's star witnesses who is serving time for bankruptcy fraud: "You must consider the testimony as that from a polluted source, and the testimony of such a source must be carefully scrutinized."

Speaking of the high regard accorded freedom of the press, he said: "Because of his high regard these are few laws governing the press."

"Therefore a violation of that trust or responsibility is a serious matter not only to Harry Karafin but also serious to the community."

"Use your common sense, and without prejudice, without sympathy and without concern for what you consider the law should be, unanimously agree on verdict of guilt or innocence of the defendant."

The judge also gave his definition of blackmail.

"If you find the defendant created or contributed to the creation of forcing an intended victim to be intimidated, and took advantage of his position in the newspaper industry to extort money, then the crime was carried out."

Speaking of the charge of unlawful solicitation by an employee, the judge said: "If you find that the inquirer was aware of it, and consented to it, then the crime has not been made out."

The judge told the jury that if Scolnick had been sentenced under a charge of subornation of perjury, to which he has pleaded guilty, he would not have been permitted to testify.

"If you are convinced of the truthfulness and the facts given by Scolnick, you should not hesitate to act on it."

"In addition to the normal rules of credibility, also consider the weight given to his testimony in the light of his criminal record."

"Did he look like he was telling the truth? Did it lie in?"

The judge also said it is generally known that partners in crime "tend to put the blame chiefly on each other," and added that partners in crime sometimes do tell the truth.

United Fund Drive Hits 52 Per Cent of Goal

Wednesday afternoon, workers in the 1968 United Fund campaign reported pledges and contributions and gifts totaling $92,245 toward this year's goal of $177,050. The amount reported is 52 per cent of the total needed.

Chester L. Christensen, general chairman, said that the figure reported yesterday is less than the amount produced one year ago at this same time when the total was a little over $100,000.

Christensen said, also, that the contributions received to date are showing, on the average, about a 5 per cent increase over last year's gifts.

To reach our goal, he said, we must average 7 per cent in increases before the campaign is over.

Yesterday's total includes $72,430 from industrial firms; $18,033 from special gifts; $660 from the commercial division; and $1,122 from the county pace setters section.

The next report session comes next week on Wednesday, October 9 when commercial, public service and professional divisions will make their first report together with further results from industry and special gifts.

The final two divisions will kick-off next Tuesday morning at 9:30 when workers of the county division and the Warren area residential division meet at the YWCA for instructions and materials.

County ASC Committee Election Results Announced

Charles Camp, chairman Warren County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announces the results of the election of new members to the committee at a convention of delegates representing the five A. S. C. Community committees:

Kenneth Lindell, R. D. 2, Russell, elected to a three year term as regular member.

Robert M. Scott, R. D. 1, Bear Lake, elected to a one-year term as first alternate.

Richard Lindell, R. D. 2, Russell, elected to a one-year term as second alternate.

The makeup of the Warren County ASC Committee for the coming year was chosen as follows: Charles Camp, Pittsfield, chairman; Kenneth Lindell, Russell, vice-chairman; Donald Johnson, regular member.

The 1968 election was held at the county convention September 25 at the Warren County courthouse. Electors were farmers chosen as convention delegates at recent community committee elections in the county.

Chairman Charles F. Camp explains that the ASC county and community farmer committees are in charge of local administration of such national farm programs as the agricultural conservation program (ACE), cropland adjustment program (CAP), the feed grain program, wheat program, acreage allotments and marketing quotas, national wool program, commodity price-support loans and storage facility loans.

ASCs county office at the Courthouse in Warren is headquarters for the county committee and serves as the farmers' local contact for business connected with participation in the programs administered by the committees. These programs encourage conservation and increase farm returns by means of price supports and market supply-management, as well as by payment, says Camp.

TOM TOM

By Tom Warco

Mrs. Golda Olson, of 239 Pennsylvania ave. w., on Monday, Sept. 30, attended the funeral of her sister, Mrs. Marjorie Emert in Tylerburg, Pa.

In what was probably an unprecedented action for Bradford City Councilmen—sitting as a newly-formulated Board of Health — Tuesday afternoon directed demolition of 15 local dwelling units within 30 days. The step was an attack on property owners who refuse to improve their housing units or raise them.

Persons in the downtown area of Titusville early Tuesday afternoon were startled to see a helicopter come dropping down out of the sky and land squarely in the "Better Days" redevelopment area. Unofficial reports said the men in the "chopper" were out checking area electric lines and decided to stop in Titusville for lunch.

Marshall A. Fisher, 60, chief administrator of Titusville schools since 1947, died Tuesday night, Oct. 1, 1968 at Titusville Hospital, he had been a patient since Saturday. Mr. Fisher was considered by many to be one of the top school superintendents in Pennsylvania.

TMO columnist Art Buchwald will appear at Grove City College on Oct. 10 to speak in Crawford Auditorium. Buchwald will speak on the subject, "Have I Ever Lied to You?"

This subject is also the title of his most recent book. Tickets for the general public will be on sale at the door.

Beware! This warning was issued by the Warren County Chamber of Commerce Wednesday when they advised businessmen to beware of high-pressure operators soliciting advertising for bogus "labor" publications. Barry R. Epstein, executive vice president of the C.C., says "boiler-room" operators soliciting advertising for bogus labor papers continue to drain millions of dollars from American business. He states that in long-distance telephone calls, the solicitor usually makes exaggerated claims to the businessman for his "labor" publication and in some instances makes veiled threats about "labor trouble" if the businessman offers resistance.

Warren General Hospital has been recognized by the Department of the Treasury for cooperation with the United States Savings Bonds program. The award was presented to Robert M. Kinney, administrator, by Marguerite A. Mattis, area representative.

A proposal for Crawford County to join with Venango and Mercer counties to establish a juvenile detention home has fallen by the wayside. Cost estimated on the project ($250,000) and other factors have led officials to decide against it.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Ask around and let me know if I am the only woman in the world who is married to such a kook. My husband (age 31) thinks sex is the cure for everything -- insomnia, depression, worry, heartburn, headache -- just name it. Last night was the last straw. He decided sex was also a cure for dandruff.

This is his reasoning: Most dandruff is caused by nervousness. Sex is the greatest relaxer known to man. If he were more relaxed he wouldn't have so much dandruff. As a dutiful wife, it is my responsibility to help rid him of his tensions. A reduction in tension means a reduction in dandruff. Is he nuts or am I? — MRS. CURE-ALL

DEAR MRS.: Whenever a woman asks me if her husband is nuts or if she is, I always remind her that she selected him.

As for your husband using sex as an excuse to rid himself of dandruff, why must it be an excuse for something? Sex can and SHOULD be a supportive, pleasurable part of marriage and while it may also be therapeutic, a husband should not have to ask for it as a cure for something.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: In the past few years you have urged kids who have alcoholic parents to join Alateen. My brother and I are two of those kids and want to tell you what it did for us. Kids whose parents don't drink can skip this letter. A person who has not lived with screaming, beatings, broken glass, black eyes, knocked out teeth, police at the door, bill collectors, the whole ugly bit -- can't believe there is such a living hell. My brother and I read about Alateen in your column two years ago. We were in need of help but ashamed to go to a meeting. Finally we decided it was either Alateen or the bughouse -- so we went.

The welcome we got was great. Every kid there made us feel right at home. Without saying a word, we knew they understood what we were going through because they were going through the same thing. My brother and I gained strength and courage. We also gained an understanding of alcoholism that took away a lot of the hatred and bitterness.

Please continue to encourage teen-agers to join this wonderful organization. It changed our lives. — A SISTER AND HER BROTHER

DEAR S AND B: You said it better than I could and I thank you. Teens who need Alateen should look in the phone book or write to Al-Anon Family Group Headquarters, Inc., P.O. Box 182, Madison Square Station, New York, N. Y. 10010.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please tell us right away if there's a state where a girl of 14 (very mature) can marry a man of 16 without their parents' consent. We need this information fast, so hurry it up. — IN LOVE AND CAN'T WAIT

DEAR IN LOVE: My advice is to forget it but the answer to your question is that state laws vary. The information you want is in your public library. Or you can call City Hall. The state that comes to my mind at once is the state of confusion.

When romantic glances turn to warm embraces is it love or chemistry? Send for the booklet "Love Or Sex And How To Tell The Difference," by Ann Landers. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 35 cents in coin with your request. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Central WCTU Program on 'Prayer'

Central WCTU met in September at the First United Methodist Church's Dunham parlors with Mrs. William Muir, the devotional leader, having the theme "Prayer," Mrs. Ruth Lindquist sang a solo "Launch Out Into the Deep," to the accompaniment of Mrs. Fay McIntire. Mrs. Sam Fox reported on the flower fund and cards sent to those who are sick or shut-in. The WCTU workshop at Youngsville on Thursday of last week was attended by the president, Mrs. McIntire.

On October 15 to 18 there will be a County Convention in Erie with Mrs. Ruth Crooks appointed a delegate from the Central Union.

ACW Hosting Special Program For High School Senior Girls

The members of the Association of College Women have invited all high school senior girls in the county to attend a special meeting on Wednesday, October 9, at 8 p.m. in the Woman's Club. The program chairman, Mrs. W. P. Lombard, has invited four very recent graduates of different colleges to present their different points of view:

Nancy Lanman, graduate nurse from Columbia University; Sandra Arnold, teacher at Irvinedale, from Adrian College and Ohio University; Cecilia Musante, teacher at Beaty

Junior High School, from Villa Maria College; and, Margery Johnson, from Warren Campus and Edinboro State College.

One of the speakers represents a large college; one a co-educational institution of learning; another a private college for girls; and one a state supported school. The four will discuss the advantages of the different types of schools they attended.

All high school senior girls in Warren County are asked to sign up for this special evening with their guidance counselors no later than tomorrow.

VFW Auxiliaries Meeting In Smethport

1st Presbyterian Art Committee Sets Up Exhibit

The art committee of the First Presbyterian Church will be at work at Fellowship Hall tomorrow setting up the exhibit, "Life and Death in Earlier Times", which features domestic furnishings from early American homes along with a collection of exact copies of gravestones carved centuries ago.

Copies of the stones, made by the rubbing process, were gathered this summer in Newburyport, Rockport, Hamilton and Manchester, Massachusetts, by Douglas Olds. Unique and interesting stones from Bennington and other Vermont cemeteries were copied by Mrs. Donald Spencer. Copies of early carved stones from Warren County cemeteries will also be shown.

The exhibit opens October 5 and will run through October 10 with hours 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 daily. It is free of charge and the public is cordially invited.

Herbs? Hoagies? Subs? Whatever they're called at your house, team these brawny flavor-packed sandwiches with Italian Vegetable Beef Soup. In a saucepan, brown 1/4 pound ground beef with 1/4 teaspoon leaf oregano, crushed. Add 1 can (10 3/4 ounces) condensed vegetable soup, 1 soup can water. Heat; stir now and then. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

NECTARINE RELISH Combine diced fresh nectarines, drained whole kernel corn and pickle relish; chill.

Welcome Wagon

The meeting tonight of Welcome Wagon will take place in Fellowship Hall of First Presbyterian Church, Warren. The subject for the evening will be on Arts and Crafts. Nancy Underhill will have paintings on display.

The various crafts will be demonstrated by Joyce Cosby, Pat Horne and Jean Steadman. Hostesses for the meeting will be Mrs. Louis Rich and Mrs. Albert J. Turbessi.

A heated political campaign was underway in Milwaukee when the typewriter was perfected in that town. Christopher Sholes, one of the inventors, was the first man to pick out "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party."

Kindergarten Teacher Talks To Sugar Grove Mothers

The first meeting for this season of the Sugar Grove Pre-School Mothers took place recently in the kindergarten room of the elementary school. Twenty-five were present when the president, Mrs. Sandy Macheimer called the meeting to order.

Special speaker for the evening was Miss Myrtle Johnson, the kindergarten teacher, who was presented by Mrs. Donald Nuttall, vice president of the group. Miss Johnson's talk was concerned with her own specialty "kindergarten."

Mrs. Nancy Maeder, chairman of the finance committee, announced that a bake sale is to be held in October, with Mrs. Harold Spink, chairman. Further details remain to be announced. Another announcement came from Mrs. Donald Sherrard who said that anyone not presently serving on a committee, but who would like to, should contact a committee chairman.

After the program and meeting, Mrs. Peggy Landin led these present in get-acquainted games. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Harold Spink and Mrs. Donald Nuttall. The next meeting takes place on Thursday, October 24.

Hints From Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

If your dog is not yet housebroken, accidents will happen.

To remove a wet puddle from a wool rug, wipe up as much as possible, then just pour ordinary table salt on it.

Cover the whole spot and put plenty on. I put it on about a half-inch high.

Leave it on until the spot is thoroughly dry. Takes about a day or two, depending on the amount of liquid that is there.

When it is dry, take your sweeper and pick up the salt. Result? No trace of the spot whatsoever and what's more, no odor.

We are in the rug cleaning business and members of N.I.R.C.

All my love, Mrs. Betty Schweitzer

Friends, I do believe Betty has found the answer!

We've been testing this for some time now and the results are truly fantastic!

It's best to first put down some old terry cloth towels (or paper ones) over the stain and step on them until the excess moisture has been absorbed. Then just pour on that salt (like you were filling the shaker, not sprinkling an egg) until it completely covers the stain, being sure to rub some down into the pile.

After the salt dries completely (in a day or so), vacuum it up and you'll not believe your eyes. We didn't find a sign of a ring or spot!

Now you may think pouring on so much salt will be expensive, but doesn't that beat buying a new carpet? Some stains, if not taken care of immediately, are permanent. Go ahead and test it for yourselves. I'll bet you won't ever be without an extra box of salt just for accidents like this.

Remember, however, to empty that vacuum cleaner gals, and wipe off the bottom or section that came in contact with the salt. That salt may rust your machine—especially in damp weather.

After testing this ourselves, we asked the National Institute of Rug Cleaning to do so, and here's their answer:

"The National Institute of Rug Cleaning has conducted tests on various absorbent materials and found table salt to rate very high.

"After all excess liquid has been removed, the salt should be sprinkled on and worked into the pile. This allows the salt to absorb more liquid. Sufficient salt should be added to absorb all of the liquid and as the top of the salt becomes wet continue adding salt.

"When the area has dried completely, vacuum out all salt."

A bushel of red roses to you, Mrs. Betty Schweitzer, (and to the N.I.R.C.) for your unyielding to a dog lover's lament! Heloise

The bidding:
East South West North
Pass 2 NT Pass 6 NT
Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Ten of ♠
The bidding was short and to the point. South's opening call of two no trump is a shade off center perhaps, inasmuch as he lacks a true stopper in diamonds. However, holding 12 high card points, no other bid would be considered acceptable. North has 11 points and two suits that can be developed which is enough to assure a sound play for a small slam in no trump.

West opened the ten of hearts which was taken in the closed hand with the jack. South counted 11 top tricks—three spades, four hearts, one diamond, and three clubs. There was a good chance to score a 12th in the diamond suit for, if West holds one of the missing honors, South can develop the fulfilling trick by taking repeated finesse thru his opponent.

There was also a prospect of dropping the jack of clubs. Declarer, however, spotted a method of eliminating all guesswork provided that West held at least three hearts. He proceeded to cash all his hearts, discarding two diamonds from dummy. West followed suit, while East parted with a club on the fourth round.

Having completed the preliminaries, declarer now exited by leading the jack of diamonds and letting it ride into the East hand. The latter won the trick with the queen; however, there was no return that he could make that would not surrender a trick. If he led back either a spade, diamond or a club, it would present South with a free finesse for his 12th trick.

Had West shown out on an early round of hearts, declarer has sufficient time to alter his line of play to include the other prospects.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars. FOR THURSDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1968

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—Reject that which is not suitable for you, but be careful HOW you do it, and under what circumstances. Be diplomatic, and do not tread on sensitive toes.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Spread your good will into the dark corners—especially where it is least expected. There are so many ways in which you can help now. Abundant rewards forthcoming.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—Your intuition should be at a peak now, but don't rely on that alone. Seek further knowledge in matters involving voluminous detail and requiring accurate data.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—A happy attitude will attract cooperation and ease tensions. You will have opportunity to command in unusual areas now.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—Think hard: What actually are your REAL obligations and are you becoming witlessly involved in non-essentials? Don't scatter energies needlessly.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—If steadfast (as the Virgo usually is) and willing to give all who err another chance, you will be greeted with plaudits galore.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—Don't deviate from carefully made plans but do make time for last-minute necessities that may arise. Be ready to assume long-range responsibilities.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 23)—Grasp at and develop any ideas or suggestions which seem profitable to work at. But don't go "way out"; neither fear to be original.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—Constructive bargaining possible in controversial issues now. A day in which the Sagittarian's innate ability to mediate can shine.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—Skill and tact will be needed if you are to accomplish as you would, and can. Study situations carefully before making decisions.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—Don't permit discussions (especially those of a business nature) to get out of hand. If there's one thing this day does NOT need, it's disorder.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—Some earnings and credits may be less than expected now, but the general outlook is very good for benefits through sustained effort over a long period of time. Keep trying!

YOU BORN TODAY are artistic, soundly practical, noted for humanitarian achievements. With skill and pride, you can be the perfectionist who does his finest because anything less would not please himself. You like to get along with associates, but will speak your mind, and fight, with others or alone, if principles are attacked. The undeveloped Libran forgets his sense of balance, tips the scales wildly at times. So up there with the best! Birthdate of: George Bancroft, Amer. historian; Gore Vidal, author, playwright.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

DRUNK OR POISONED?

Many old and familiar stories are worth repeating, especially when they may save your life. Doctors Mary E. Moore and Albert J. Finestone of Philadelphia told about a middle-aged woman who was admitted to Temple University Hospital with a migraine headache of three weeks' duration. The initial examination showed her to be healthy and apparently intelligent and stable. A few hours later the distress disappeared.

The staff thought nothing of it, because pain frequently subsides after one visits the physician or is hospitalized. Two days later the woman's niece reported that her aunt had passed out and, on coming to, was unable to walk because of muscle weakness. The niece also recalled that the patient's husband had fainted that afternoon. She was told to bring the couple to the emergency room immediately.

According to the report in the New England Journal of Medicine, on arrival, the couple behaved in a drunken manner. Both were red-faced and interrupted each other in loud voices, but denied drinking or taking medicines. Relatives who brought them in told the physicians that the thermostat in the house was turned to 80 degrees Fahrenheit. They also detected a faint odor of gas, but the heater was turned off. Carbon monoxide poisoning was suspected and blood tests were strongly positive. After treatment, both recovered.

The chimney had been blocked and carbon monoxide was collecting in the home. Continuous or intermittent exposure to moderate amounts of the gas leads to headache with an abnormal mental state, nerve changes, red skin, palpitation, and nausea with vomiting. These symptoms can mimic many ailments; when palpitation is marked, the heart might be blamed. A stroke is a possibility when mental and nervous complaints are severe.

How easy it would have been for the neighbors to complain to the police that the couple were drunk. It is an old story, but worth emphasizing, because it could happen to you.

TOMORROW: Personality Cripples.
Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

WOOD ALCOHOL POISONING
A.W. writes: How does wood alcohol affect the body?

REPLY:
Methyl alcohol is extremely toxic because it takes a long time to be eliminated from the body. An incurable blindness may occur after a small amount is swallowed. The chemical irritates the stomach and produces excruciating abdominal pain with weakness, vomiting, dizziness, muscular twitching, coma, and death.

IMPENDING CORONARY
D. P. writes: Are heart attacks spontaneous or does the person have pre-coronary symptoms?

REPLY:
Coronary thrombosis occurs with and without notice. Some persons have no warning. Others suffer pain in the chest or upper abdomen on exertion or after excitement several months before the attack.

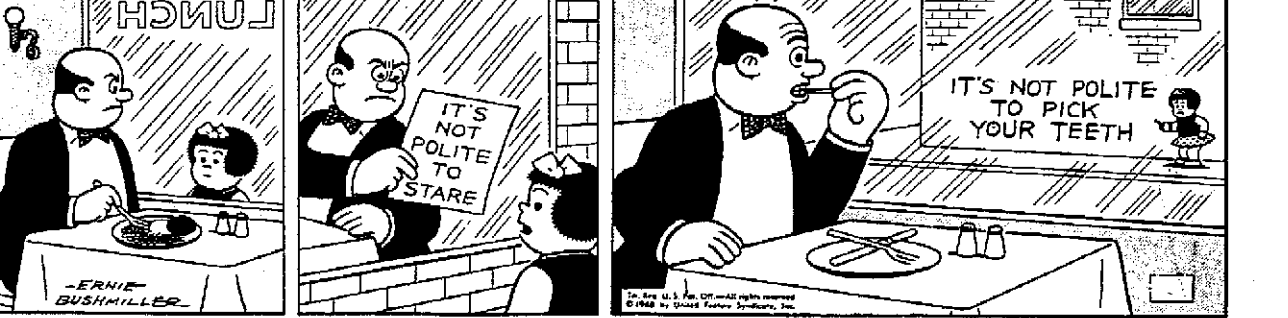

UNCONTROLLED DIABETES
M.S. writes: Does sugar in the urine cause an individual to be sleepy all the time?

REPLY:
Yes, assuming you have uncontrolled diabetes. The manifestation usually disappears when the disorder is brought under control.

THE HARRIS SURVEY

By LOUIS HARRIS

All modern presidential campaigns divide into four parts: (1) the pre-convention battle for the nomination, (2) the climactic convention, (3) the post-convention backwash period and (4) the final stretch run following completion of the World Series.

In the pre-convention period, Richard Nixon was the winner, as Barry Goldwater was before him, of the battle within his party but was the loser of the popularity polls. Nelson Rockefeller placed a pall over Nixon during this period and the former Vice President simply could not break out as a popular winner.

Hubert Humphrey lay back in the pre-convention period and in a sense let the nomination come to him from attrition. He had the muscle, was doing respectably well in the popularity polls and in Eugene McCarthy had an opponent simply unacceptable to the party professionals.

In the period following the conventions, Nixon has begun to come into his own. He has spurred into the lead in the polls, is attracting good and orderly crowds and seems to have his carefully planned campaign rolling. By contrast, Humphrey has now slipped behind in the polls, is plagued by disorder wherever he appears and somehow initially has not been able to get his campaign untracked.

Up to now, in terms of the ultimate outcome of the election, the convention period has proved to be more decisive than is usually the case in determining the ultimate winner. The public responded in quite different fashion to the two conventions.

Here is the public's reaction to the GOP convention, as measured in a series of questions put to a cross section of 1,324 voters in mid-September:

	AGREE	DISAGREE	NOT SURE
	PER CENT	PER CENT	PER CENT
Nixon's acceptance speech was one of the best in a long time.	49	14	37
The Republican convention was boring.	40	37	23
The GOP falsely tried to sweep their real differences under the rug.	32	32	36
GOP politicians used polls too much to influence delegates.	22	33	45
Miami race riots during GOP convention pointed up how little GOP has done for Negroes.	20	53	27
Southern segregationists controlled the Republican convention.	12	50	38

Fundamentally, the Republican convention may have been boring to many voters, but above all it avoided controversy. The potential dangers of the so-called "Nixon deal" with Sen. Strom Thurmond to obtain Southern support appear not to have taken deep hold at all. The race riots in Miami during the GOP convention were not related by voters to the political business being transacted in nearby Miami Beach.

The single outstanding impression of the Republican convention was Nixon's acceptance speech, which impressed one voter in every two as "one of the best in a long time." This performance was the keynote of his campaign, has become the basis of his television and radio thrust and parallels a comparable impression he made in 1960. After that speech he moved into a 53-47 per cent lead over John F. Kennedy. It took the great debates to reverse this margin back then.

The public impression of the Democratic convention was vastly different from the GOP convlave:

	AGREE	DISAGREE	NOT SURE
	PER CENT	PER CENT	PER CENT
Were right to seat Southern Negro delegates.	73	9	18
Mayor Daley was right the way he used police against the demonstrators.	66	20	14
Democrats wouldn't let delegates who disagreed have say on the floor.	46	22	32
Way they ran convention, Democrats proved they couldn't govern America.	34	49	17
Humphrey made one of the best acceptance speeches.	32	28	40
Anti-Vietnam demonstrators had protest rights taken away unlawfully.	14	66	20

Clearly, at the Democratic convention, the events dominated the candidate, Hubert Humphrey. The public sided with Mayor Daley and not with the demonstrators. The credit the Democrats won for seating the Mississippi and Georgia delegations with Negroes in them was dissipated by the disorder, thought by 34 per cent to prove they therefore "couldn't govern America."

Above all, Vice President Humphrey was not the focal point of the convention. Events seemed to buffet him. In sharp contrast, the Republican convention elevated Richard Nixon and submerged GOP problems.

In the backwash period since the conventions, Nixon has continued to hold onto his lead and has proved capable of weaving events and issues to suit his campaign strategy. Humphrey still is beset by his convention trouble of being discomfited by events beyond his control — Vietnam, disorder and differences over President Johnson.

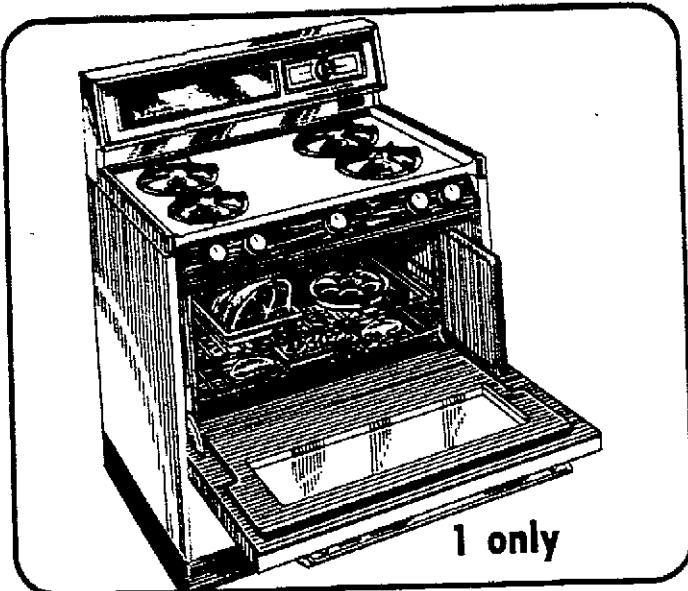

But there are still four weeks to go, and in this strangest year of politics the past is not a solid guide to the future. The fourth act in the drama is yet to come and the full public reaction to what "President Nixon" would be like is just settling in, and in 1968, both the public and events have consistently been cruel to front-runners.

Pennsylvania Happenings

By LEE LINDER
Associated Press Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Facts prove it: high school dropouts ARE stupid. Not because they can't learn, but because they don't want to!

The Pennsylvania Bureau of Employment Security reports that there are three times as many jobless among high school dropouts than those who stick it out and get a diploma.

In the 1967-68 academic year, there were 23,613 dropouts in Pennsylvania — and most of these, 16 and 17 years old, just couldn't get any work.

Daniel J. Little, manager of the bureau's Philadelphia office where more than half of the state's dropouts are located, warns that education is a work requirement.

"School helps prepare you for jobs that will bring lifetime rewards if you are ready for the opportunities," says Little.

"High school dropouts often become drifters, going from one unskilled job to another. They also are the first to be laid off in any job cutback."

If there is any message for education in Pennsylvania's public schools, as a new semester begins, this is it.

DID YOU KNOW?... the first baby born in a hospital in North America, before the United States itself was born, was on July 17, 1765 at Philadelphia's Pennsylvania Hospital, still the oldest in the nation. It was "a female child of Martha Robinson, a poor patient." Despite this the hospital didn't organize a maternity department until 37 years later. Today Pennsylvania Hospital has 3,000 births annually.

PEOPLE & PLACES:
The tiny hamlet of Ickesburg recently celebrated its 150 birthday — and all 250 residents participated. Ickesburg is at the bottom of the Tuscarora Mountains, 40 miles north of Harrisburg in Perry County. Frank Neff, a 90-year-old resident of Sunbury, says he was only seven but remembers when Thomas Edison produced the world's first commercial electric lighting in Sunbury. "We lived immediately across the street from the station where Edison was experimenting," said Neff, "and my mother put me at the front window so I could watch him." The Harrisburg School District has organized a Department of Intergroup Education to help bridge the so-called "communications gap" between people of all ages, cultures, races and religions.

WORTH QUOTING:
"If hippies can't run buses or work in industry and can only lay down in parks and sleep and throw razor blades at police, then I think they are disgracing their generation." — Gov. Spiro Agnew of Maryland in a political speech recently at York.

PLANNING AHEAD
LOUISVILLE (AP) — Members of the seventh grade class were instructed to write an essay on what they wanted to be when they grew older.

One youngster wrote: "I want to be a dentist, like my father because I figure by the time I grow up, he will have all of his equipment paid for."

CORNER PIECES for Chicago's 100-story John Hancock Center were welded with continuous flux-cored electrodes shielded by carbon dioxide to prevent oxygen contamination. The process, reports Alloy Rods Company, York, Pa., achieves 100 per cent weld penetration, enabling the corners to withstand such forces as twisting, tension and compression.

2 fiber glass belts stabilize the tread with a tensile strength greater than steel

That's stable. So stable, the tread won't squirm like it does on ordinary tires. So it wears longer. Up to 40% longer than the same tire without these belts. All that strength holds the tread open. Lays it down flatter. Socks it to the road.

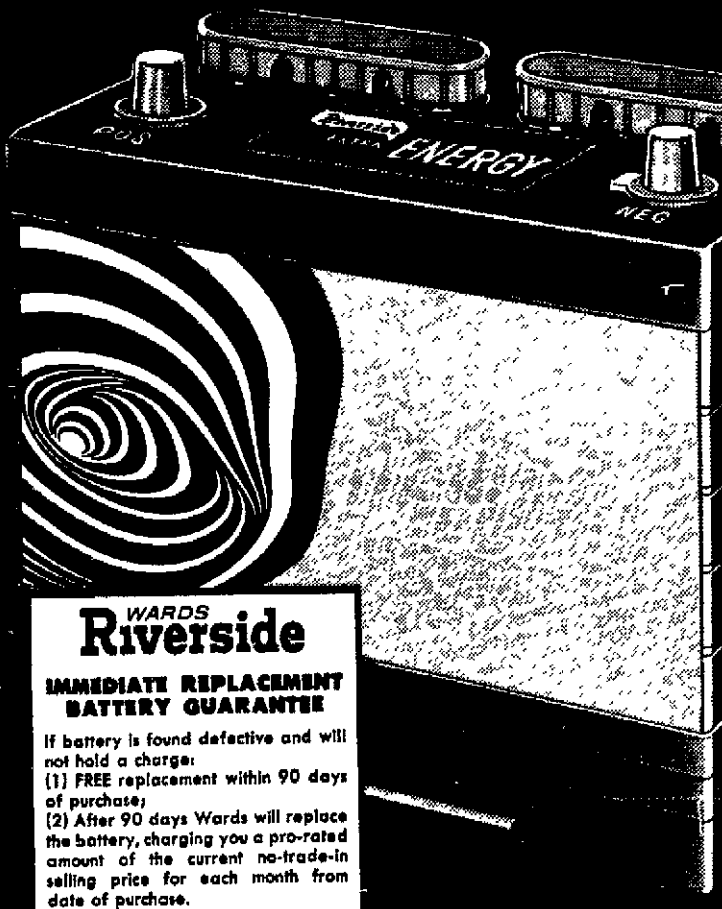

2 plies of tough nylon cord for high speed dependability

Cross plies, not radial, for more stability. Nothing resists impact like nylon. You can really drive on this tire.
